NADINE CROUSE BADLY INJURED IN FARM MISHAP

Miss Nadine Crouse, 21-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Crouse, Littlestown R. 1, is in the Hanover Hospital with three fractures of the pelvis after being run over by a heavy tractor on her father's farm off Broadway at the northeastern edge of Hanover Wednesday afternoon.

Her condition was reported good following emergency surgery Wednesday night.

The young woman, who recently received her discharge after three years' service in the U.S. Air Force, had been raking alfalfa hay with a heavy John Deere diesel tractor and side delivery rake.

About 5 p.m. on a sharp turn, the rake caught a tractor wheel and started to "ride up on the wheel." Miss Crouse either fell or tried to jump off the tractor when a foot caught and she fell. The heavy machine passed over her hips as she lay face down on the ground.

The tractor, still pulling the rake after it, circled and came toward her a second time but she was able to crawl clear of its path. The circling tractor attracted the attention of Mrs. Wesley Ambrose, wife of the tenant farmer, who was at the farm house some distance away.

She investigated, discovered Miss Crouse's plight and called Miss Crouse's father who was working on an adjoining farm where he and other workmen had gone a short time earlier to unload alfalfa. Then Mrs. Ambrose summoned the Hanover ambulance and Mr. Crouse stopped the circling tractor.

STEEL STRIKE AT DEADLINE FIXED BY IKE

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP)—Steel negotiators today came up against President Eisenhower's implied strike settlement deadline without hope of quickly ending the 86-day old strike and apparently resigned to government use of the Taft-Hartley law.

Each side said it did not want government legal intervention. United Steelworkers President David J. McDonald said his union would undertake a legal fight to prevent it. But he said workers would obey the law of the land.

The actions of both sides, however, indicated they preferred operating under a court injunction rather than acceptance of the other's demands for a dispute-ending agreement.

Complete Deadline
The last joint negotiating session was held Tuesday night. It ended in complete deadlock. Since then there is no evidence that either side has attempted to arrange further joint meetings.

Eight days ago, President Eisenhower called union and industry leaders to Washington. He said he wanted to see some progress in negotiations before his return from a California vacation today.

Wednesday, as the President wound up his Palm Springs, Calif., vacation, a motecade of steelworkers visited his retreat with a petition asking that he not invoke the Taft-Hartley law.

White House press secretary James Hagerty greeted them and after reading the petition told them: "The President hopes the strike will be settled by collective bargaining too."

TWO-COUNTY 4-H ROUNDUP OCT. 27, 28

Adams and York County 4-H Baby Beef Club members will hold their roundup and sale this month at Thomasville, Duane Duncan, assistant county farm agent, reported today.

After taking part in a large regional roundup at Lancaster for many years, the York and Adams group decided to break away and hold their own session.

A principal reason for the two-county roundup is the increasing difficulty in obtaining permission for absence from school, Duncan said. The Lancaster affair is a three-day event.

The York-Adams Roundup will be held on Tuesday afternoon and all day Wednesday, October 27 and 28. It was suggested that parents may take the cattle to the Thomasville livestock yards on Tuesday afternoon so that the Wednesday afternoon so that the youngsters would have to miss only one day of school.

Expect 40 Head
Registration and selection of the steers which will represent Adams and York Counties at the State Farm Show in Harrisburg in January is scheduled for Tuesday afternoon. Frank Kreuzberger, Pennsylvania State University specialist, will select the Farm Show entries at 2:30 o'clock that afternoon. The 4-H members are not required to be present for the event provided their parents or some member of their family is there.

Wednesday, October 28, the show's work will begin early in the morning. The animals will be weighed at 6 o'clock. At 8:30 o'clock judging will begin of various breeds in light, medium and heavyweight classifications.

Approximately 60 head of cattle are scheduled for the show. The grand champion will receive a trophy from the Production Credit Corporation. Ribbon awards will go to both the youth who raised the champion steers and to the buyers who purchase them—so that they may properly advertise their prize purchases while the raiser will also have a ribbon to keep.

Gail Long, herdsman for the Pennsylvania State University farms, will be judge for the roundup.

FINN BALLET PRESENTATION THRILLS CROWD

The Gettysburg Concert Association presentation of the National Ballet Theater of Finland more than fulfilled the expectations of the near capacity audience in the Gettysburg High evening. It is true that language and a different culture are no barrier to art appreciation as testified by the enthusiastic applause that followed each dance sequence.

The first selection was based on a Finnish folk dance and poem by Aleksis Kivi, Finland's national poet. As the dance unfolded it told the story of a boy who asked a girl to tie her scarf into a rosette as a sign of love. While the girl is dancing the rosette unties before the boy arrived and he draws the wrong conclusions. However, the dance ends with the pair happily united. It was a colorful as well as graceful presentation. The company danced about in what appeared to be authentic peasant costumes that afforded grace to every gesture.

Has Exotic Touch
While the first selection was colorful the second had a touch of the exotic. It was an original presentation prepared especially for the American-Canadian tour and based on Greek mythology and story of the wanderer Odysseus. Lighting played a great part in this number and was artfully used. The choreography was unusual and one could almost feel the waves toss Odysseus on his voyages as portrayed by the dancers. The ovation that followed each dance was a fitting tribute to the creator of this dance, Birgit Cullberg.

The final sequence was the famous "Harlequin's Millions" by Riccardo Drigo. It featured the famous characters of Colombine, Harlequin, Pierrot and Pierrette and was a gay and festive number. The costumes again were unusual and the dancers gave the true flavor of gaiety that the selection warranted.

The program was a varied one and featured three separate moods each of which was artfully done by the ballet troupe. A special tribute goes to the pianists, George De Godzinsky and Robert Phillips, who set the mood and tempo for each dance. The audience was indeed fortunate to see a truly great ballet troupe.

Three Teen-age Girls May Be In Hands Of Desperadoes

HELENA, Mont. (AP)—Are three teen-aged high school girls off on a lark with three California desperadoes who disguised themselves with fancy cowboy clothes and polite manners? Or have they been kidnapped?

FBI agents and local officers, seeking an answer to those questions, directed an ever-widening search today for a rose pink 1959 Pontiac sedan.

The girls have been unreported since they stepped into that car last Friday at the Helena High School. They are Claudia Fuller, 17, Sharon Lee McDowell, 16, and Sharon Irene Balazs, 17, members of families in modest circumstances.

Had Dated Newcomers
For a few days before, they had been dating three newcomers to Helena. Sheriff Dave Middlemas said the men, dressed in "fancy cowboy clothes," talked of plans to "leave or buy a ranch. The girls, all horse lovers, appeared to be impressed.

Kills His Wife With A Hammer

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A 67-year-old retired tailor walked into Upper Darby detective headquarters in suburban Delaware County today and told Sgt. Chester Souders:

"I have just killed my wife with a hammer."

Souders and Det. Lt. William Gillespie went to the home of the tailor, Ezio Baldassarre, at 118 Botanic Court, Highland Park.

In a second floor bedroom they found the battered body of Baldassarre's wife, Connie, 66, whom he married about three or four months ago.

The wife had been beaten on the head with a blunt instrument. She had been dead only a short time.

Police said Baldassarre lived at the Botanic Court address for two years with a daughter, Gilda, by a previous marriage. They said the daughter died a month ago and that the father had been brooding.

Conservatives Are Favored In Early Election

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's Conservative party was favored to win an unprecedented third term in office today as Britons voted to elect a new House of Commons.

Eleventh-hour public opinion polls, the stock market and the bookmakers—legal in Britain—all indicated the Conservatives would win a majority of the 630 House seats and with it five more years in control of the government.

After a final canvass of 100 key voting districts, Conservative leaders predicted their majority would be about 50 seats, three less than when Parliament was dissolved Sept. 18.

Laborites Confident
The Laborites also predicted victory for their side by a majority of about 15 seats.

Three final public opinion polls showed a jump in Conservative popularity. But they still reported a massive 16 per cent of "don't knows"—people who either hadn't decided which way to vote or wouldn't tell their decision.

On the London Stock Exchange steel shares made substantial gains. This indicated Britain's financiers were confident of a Conservative victory. For Labor threatens to put the steel industry under government ownership if elected to office.

The bookies also were still betting on the Conservatives. You had to put up three pounds on the Tories for a chance at winning only one pound. And one pound on Labor gave you a chance at winning three if the Laborites were victorious.

Seifert Sues On Contract Breach

A $5,779 claim is made in a suit filed in York common pleas court Wednesday by a York contractor charging a Philadelphia partnership with breach of contract.

A. B. Seifert and Son, Inc., York, contend in a suit, filed by the law firm of Stock and Leader, that the amount claimed is the difference it was forced to expend to obtain furniture for a project after the defendant firm withdrew an earlier quotation to provide the furniture.

Named as defendants are Eli D., Eli D., Jr. and Jacques T. Bernheim, trading as Bernheim and Sons, Philadelphia.

The project concerned the supplying of wardrobe furniture for women's residence halls at Gettysburg College in 1957. The Seifert firm was the general contractor for the job.

22 and 23. Parochial school children have already had a two-day vacation when their teachers attended the diocesan Catholic school teachers institute session.

Adams County teachers decided this year to meet with the Cumberland County teachers for one day of their annual institute sessions with the belief that the large number present, 1,200 in all, would offer advantages.

TEST PILOTS ANXIOUS FOR SPACE ROLES

By RALPH DIGHTON

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—Two years ago this month some of the world's hottest pilots sat down to a sumptuous dinner—and found they had lost their appetite for the meal, and for the future they faced.

The occasion was the first annual banquet of the Society of Experimental Test Pilots. The date—

Oct. 4, 1957.

That was the night the Soviet Union launched Sputnik I into orbit. And there was no man in it.

Awareness Cited

"We suddenly became aware," recalls society president Al Blackburn, "that the pilot's role was going to be secondary unless we became more active in demonstrating that the rigors of space are no worse than the rigors of experimental flight in the atmosphere."

Today the young society opens a three-day symposium in a plush hotel, summoning specialists from the armed services and industry to support its contention that man has a vital part in space exploration.

"In centrifuge tests we have shown that men can withstand the whole pattern of space flight—from blastoff through re-entry—and exercise judgment and control through it all," Blackburn said in an interview. "We are fighting now to demonstrate that you get a more flexible, reliable vehicle if you put a man in it—and use him, instead of making him a guinea pig."

Slap At Project?

Was this a left-handed slap at Project Mercury, which proposes to rocket man into space in a capsule over which he will have little control?

"Not at all," said Blackburn. "Two of the Project Mercury candidates—Air Force Capt. Don Glendon and Marine Lt. Col. John Glenn—are members of the society. And all of the five other Mercury candidates are test pilots, because this is the only group already trained to observe and react under severe conditions of acceleration, noise and vibration. "But I am sure that the fact that they will not be masters of their own fate weighs heavily in the minds of the Mercury astronauts."

STATE LAUDED BY PRESIDENT OF U. S. C. OF C.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Erwin D. Canham, president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, today praised Pennsylvania for "the kind of leadership that gets jobs done."

In a speech prepared for the annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Chamber of Commerce, Canham declared that "in Pennsylvania, as elsewhere, the homemade solution has proved to be the best."

He said that fair taxes, fair labor laws, adequate schools and good playgrounds and libraries are among the things that expansion-minded businesses look for in communities.

Elected 16 Directors

Meanwhile, 16 new members were elected to the board of directors of the Pennsylvania chamber. Those named to two-year terms on the 65-member governing body included:

Oscar L. Dunn, general manager of the General Electric Co. Motor and Generator Division, Erie; Theodore B. Focke, president of the National-U.S. Radiator Corp., Johnstown; and Gerald A. Harshman, president of the Sharon Herald.

For One-year Terms

Those elected to one-year terms as district directors by vote of member local organizations included:

George S. DeArment, Champion DeArment Tool Co., Meadville; Edward L. Sittler Jr., Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York, Uniontown; Glenn Mencer, district attorney of McKean County; Mahlon K. Robb, president of the Bellefonte Trust Co.; William J. Raeder, resident manager, Austin Powder Co., Scranton; and Morgan J. Doughton, president of the Allied Home Owners Assn., Le Moyne.

TIC TAC DOUGH QUIZ SHOW IS OUSTED BY NBC

By JOE F. KANE

WASHINGTON (AP)—The producer of one of the few surviving television quiz shows has been fired because he would not swear that there had been no advance coaching of contestants.

House investigators looking behind the scenes of TV quiz show operations heard that testimony Wednesday from Thomas E. Ervin, vice president and general counsel of the National Broadcasting Co.

Ervin said Howard Felsher, producer of the daytime television show Tic Tac Dough, was fired last week by the network.

Word of the firing came after two press agents for another quiz program, the defunct show Twenty-One, testified that program had been rigged. They said their lawyer had told them not to tell the truth about this to New York authorities. The lawyer denied the accusation.

Probe Dotto Show

After a long day of open testimony, the House Legislative Oversight subcommittee went behind closed doors to question Daniel Enright, a co-owner, and Albert Freedman, producer of the Twenty-One show, which once drew top audience ratings.

Both declined comment before and after the four-hour session. Today's questions were to center on Dotto, one of the first big quiz shows to collapse under the taint of scandal.

Most of Wednesday's probing centered on Twenty-One. Late in the day, Alfred Davis and Arthur Franklin testified the show had been rigged. The two had been press agents for the program.

They said an attorney for their firm, Edwin Slote of New York, told them not to tell New York authorities the truth about the program.

Slote's law office later issued a statement authorized in his behalf. It said: "At no time were either Mr. Davis or his firm advised to tell anything other than the truth to any inquiries where ever initiated. . . ."

GIRL, LOVER ARE INDICTED IN SLAYING

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Pretty Carole Tregoff and her surgeon lover await arraignment today on new charges in the fatal shooting of her paramour's wife.

The 22-year-old ex-model and Dr. Bernard Finch, 41, were indicted by the county grand jury Wednesday for murder and conspiracy to murder Barbara Jean Finch, 33, last July 18.

Although both already had been ordered held for trial on murder charges, the prosecution sought the grand jury indictment to sidestep a second preliminary hearing and further court delays.

Returns Girl To Jail

It also wanted the indictments as a means of returning the au-burn-haired girl to jail pending trial. Miss Tregoff, who had been freed on $25,000 bond, was returned to jail Wednesday.

Grand jury foreman C. F. Van De Water said the indictment was returned primarily on the testimony of Donald S. Williams, 21-year-old Las Vegas, Nev., college student.

Williams, a childhood friend of Miss Tregoff, reportedly told jurors the ex-model was afraid that Mrs. Finch had some incriminating evidence against her and Dr. Finch.

"Carole never mentioned anything about murder or any violence," Williams told newsmen outside the jury room. "I never had any idea there was a job to be done."

Van De Water said the jury considered Williams' testimony a straightforward account that corroborated previous testimony by another witness, Jack P. Cody, a Minneapolis convict, that Miss Tregoff and Dr. Finch tried to hire him to kill the doctor's wife.

Cody, 29, reportedly testified that Miss Tregoff offered him $1,400 to kill Mrs. Finch, that he accepted $1,180 and then skipped town without fulfilling the agreement.

DOCK STRIKE GOES TO COURT ON IKE'S ORDER

NEW YORK (AP)—Acting on President Eisenhower's orders, government attorneys moved to seek a court order today sending 85,000 striking longshoremen back to work from Maine to Texas.

There was little doubt a Taft-Hartley law injunction—requiring an 80-day return to work—would be issued promptly in U.S. District Court. A judge's ruling was required, but never before has an injunction been refused in the 15 previous times the government has invoked the law's emergency provisions.

A court order ending the week-old strike was expected to send the workers back to the docks no later than Friday. William V. Bradley, president of the striking International Longshoremen's Assn., said, "When we receive the order we will comply with it."

Nation's Safety At Stake

In ordering court action, Eisenhower repeated that if the strike were permitted to continue, it would imperil national health and safety and affect the food supply of the heavily populated Atlantic and Gulf Coast areas.

His order climaxed a day in which the Taft-Hartley law's emergency machinery turned with almost unprecedented speed.

A fact-finding board held hearings in Washington Wednesday morning, wrote its report during the afternoon, and dispatched it by Navy jet plane Wednesday night to Eisenhower's vacation headquarters at La Quinta, Calif.

Eisenhower received the report and ordered the court action less than 17 hours after the board started its hearings.

7 Turnpike Bottleneck Tunnels Being Studied

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission is studying ways of eliminating growing bottlenecks at the seven tunnels on the western half of the superhighway.

Chairman Joseph Lawler said today a survey by the consulting engineering firm of Michael Baker Jr., Inc., Rochester, Pa., should be completed within a month.

"The survey is concerned with the feasibility of increasing the number of lanes in the existing tunnels, building new tubes or constructing bypasses around the mountains," Lawler said.

Must Do Something

"There's no doubt something has to be done soon," he added. Gov. Lawrence last month signed a law authorizing the commission to bore another set of tunnels on the superhighway. However, the Legislature did not provide any funds for the proposal.

Lawler estimated it would cost nine million dollars for each new tunnel.

"We won't have any idea of the cost of bypass roads until the Baker report is in," he added.

Two Lanes Now

The existing tunnels have only two lanes, one for traffic in each

Giesey's comments came in the face of Republican insistence that the plan is dead for this legislative session.

"ANGEL DIRTY FACE"

She was only six or seven... angel with a dirty face... but her tender eyes were glowing... with a sanctifying grace... just a pussycat with pigtailed... playing game of make-believe... painting pictures in a sandbox... only dreamers can conceive... she was unaware I watched her... as she cooed just like a dove... every sound a soothing melody... telling me of childish love... may the Lord always protect her... guide her through the coming years... may her life be filled with laughter... seldom knowing bitter tears... oh the wonder of this moment... such a warm enchanting scene... an angel with a dirty face... and yet so pure and clean.

RIGID FINES ARE OPPOSED

HARRISBURG (AP)—Dauphin County Dist. Atty. Huette F. Dowling Wednesday asked U.S. District Court to dismiss a complaint against his enforcement of a newly revised law stiffening penalties for Sunday sales.

The court, acting on a complaint by the Middletown Merchandise Mart, last month issued a temporary restraining order to stop Dowling from enforcing recently passed amendments to a 1939 law banning certain sales on Sunday. The law, as amended, provides for a fine of $100 to $20 for violations within one year.

Raids Continue
Dowling, however, has continued to enforce provisions of the 1939 statute calling for a $4 fine. The Middletown Mart was raided for the 17th Sunday last week. So far, there have been 206 arrests on charges of Blue Law violations at the mart.

A hearing has been set for Friday before U.S. District Judge Frederick V. Follmer in Lewisburg on a new attempt by the mart to restrain Dowling from enforcing the 1939 law.

"The State Supreme Court has held that the act of 1939 is constitutional," Dowling said. "Until I am restrained I am going to continue enforcing it. And I am going to oppose any attempt to have me restrained."

MOUNTAINEER HARRIERS TO HAVE BALANCE

Lacking a really outstanding performer, Coach Jim Deegan feels that the current Mount St. Mary's cross country team should wind up with an excellent record because of its fine balance. The Mountie mentor feels that while he may seldom top the field he should have all his harriers close to the lead spots where they can pile up enough points to take the majority of their dual meets.

Heading the Mountie crew is Capt. Jim Murphy, Danbury, Conn., ace who has been top dog among the Mountaineer runners for past three years. A senior N. Murphy had a disappointing season last year but Deegan looks for him to push the Blue and White to one of their best seasons if he shakes off a leg injury that has been hobbling him in recent workouts.

Soph John Muldoon, East Meadow, N. Y., should give Murphy a lively time in most meets of his early time trials. Pleasant surprise thus far has been the running of soph Terry Lynch, Westbury, N. Y., who has topped his best performance of last season by half a minute. Senior Ed Conti adds strength as he begins his first full season of competition. As a scholastic star, Conti ran the anchor leg four years ago when St. Francis Prep tied the American schoolboy record for the two-mile relay at the Penn Relays. Deegan is high on Conti, a real gutty runner who lifts squad morale.

Fresh Look Good
In the five and six spots at the moment are two frosh, Bob MacLachlan, Lake Ronkonkoma, N. Y., and John McGowan, Islip, N. Y. A dogfight has developed between senior Pat Boyle and junior Pat Quigley, New Rochelle, N. Y. Both have disappointed Deegan, Boyle because of lack of competition has taken the edge of his performances and Quigley because he has been too busy in other campus activities to approach last year's form when he was Deegan's number three man.

Rounding out the squad are three other frosh, George Knipping and Mike Gunning, teammates at Chaminade High, Long Island, N. Y., and John Carr of St. James, Chester, Pa. Deegan expects competition to sharpen up MacLachlan and Quigley so that they move up in the scoring. If Murphy hits his best stride, Muldoon and Lynch continue their excellent performances and Conti and MacLachlan live up to their promise, this could be a very good season indeed. Injuries, of course, could ruin the thin Mountaineer squad.

Won Opener
In their first meet the Mountaineers whipped American U. 22-38, placing seven men before the Eagles brought their fourth man home.

The schedule: October 10, Catholic U., home; 16, Loyola, home; 19, Roanoke, home; 21, Washington, home; 27, Gallaudet, away; 31, Howard, away; November 7, Towson, away; 14, Loyola Invitation; 21, Mason-Dixon championships.

Kovach Acquitted In Fayette Court

UNIONTOWN, Pa. (AP)—A Fayette County Criminal Court jury today acquitted Dist. Atty. Joseph Kovach of charges of violating the State Election Code.

The jury deliberated about an hour and a half before returning its verdict. The charges were filed as the result of allegations stemming from the Democratic primary election last May.

At the time Kovach was seeking the Democratic nomination for his second term as district attorney. He lost the election and since has been appointed a Republican candidate for judge in the November election.

The case went to the jury shortly after 10 a. m. after Judge John J. Pentz of Clearfield County completed his charge to the jury.

for increasing the number to 875 by the end of the year.

In order to obtain the 116 boys needed to reach the goal, each of the 34 units will have to "enroll approximately 3 1/2 boys," Shupe said. He urged each unit to recruit "as many boys as you can." At the same time he reported the possibility of obtaining some of the additional membership through four new units now under consideration.

Plans were made for members of the organization and extension committee to meet with each of the 13 units which had not added members so far this year to assist those units in membership campaigns.

Plan For Camporee
Chairman Hartzell reported for the camping and activities committee plans for a "Show and Do" camporee to be held at York Springs November 6, 7 and 8.

Hartzell said that for the camporee, the council will provide only the place and judges. Each unit will arrive when it wishes during the three-day period and leave when it wishes. It will set up its own campsite and do its own cooking, carrying on its own program and arrange its own sanitary facilities. Each unit attending will be judged on how well it carries out the camping and program responsibilities for itself and awards will be given accordingly. Council will have a first aid tent on hand.

Plans were also announced for a "Show and Do" program for adult leaders at Camp Tuckahoe October 17. Each Boy Scout troop is asked to have a patrol of adults on hand. The program will start at 10 a. m. and close at 9:30 p. m. The adults will be instructed in basic scouting skills and then compete as patrols.

Hartzell reported an "amazing response" to the Golden Jamboree to be held by the Boy Scouts of America at Colorado Springs, Colo. The fee is $250 with a $25 down payment.

Hartzell said the York-Adams Council has been allotted attendance by two troops, 64 boys, for the jamboree. Already 59 boys have registered. With only five more to go the council is planning to ask for a larger allotment and asks parents of boys planning to go to send in reservations. With the reservations on hand it is thought that perhaps a larger allotment can be secured.

Training Chairman Donald Carver reported plans for a University of Scouting to be held in the Gettysburg area on February 16 and 23 and March 1, 8 and 15.

He reported a junior leadership training course will be held this weekend at Camp Tuckahoe with the scouts to go into camp at 7 p. m. Friday. Scout troops were urged to take junior leaders to the camp whether they have made reservations in advance or not.

Frustrated Rapist Beats Woman, Tries To Burn Her

NEW YORK (AP)—A frustrated rapist beat up a young wife today and threw her into a blazing furnace. She managed to escape but was in critical condition with third degree burns covering her body.

The slightly built woman, Mrs. Hilda Koch, 24, mother of two children, is the wife of a Bronx apartment house superintendent.

She said she was in the basement, tending the furnace, when the man, a 6-footer in his late 20s, approached and asked to rent an apartment. She told him none was available.

The woman thought he had left, but a moment later he confronted her with a gun and ordered her to remove her clothes. She refused. He tried to attack her and she fought back.

He hit her about the head and face with the gun. Then he grabbed her and forced her through a four-foot-wide door in the furnace.

Police said they had conflicting reports on how she got out. One was that the man held the door shut briefly, then fled, and that she opened it from the inside. Another was that her screams attracted tenants who helped her out.

Girl Scout News

Brownie Troop 71 met Wednesday afternoon in St. James Lutheran Church. There were 29 girls present. Plans were discussed for a cook-out to be held Saturday, October 17. The girls will meet at the church at 10 a. m. where transportation will be provided to Camp Happy Valley. Parents may call for the girls at the church at 3 p. m.

Due to rain a penny hike which had been planned was canceled. The remainder of the meeting was spent playing games. The leaders present were Mrs. Harry Ekdahl, Mrs. Orville Orner and Mrs. Leo Kuhn.

Thirty-two were present at the neighborhood association meeting of the Adams County Girl Scout Council held at York Springs High School Wednesday evening. Communities represented were Conewago Chapel, East Berlin, Hampton, New Oxford and York Springs. Mrs. Amos Meyers, chairman, presided. Plans were made for each community to hold its own Christmas carol program instead of the council-wide event as has been the practice in the past. The next meeting will be held at the Hampton fire hall Thursday, February 25, with the inclement weather date set for March 3. Mrs. Charles Ritter, vice president of the board, and Mrs. M. Hardy Nichols, council assistant, were present.

ASSAILS IKE FOR ALLOWING STEEL STRIKE

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. David L. Lawrence says President Eisenhower should have made attempts to head off the steel strike before it got started.

"If I'd been president I would have had these people (opposing sides) in to meet before the strike occurred," the Democratic governor told a news conference Wednesday. "He might have gotten it (a settlement)."

Lawrence also voiced opposition to invocation of the Taft-Hartley Law.

The governor said the strike was having a broad effect on the Commonwealth's economy and on his proposed budget for the 1959-61 biennium.

He indicated that his budget request for public assistance would be too small, especially since the Senate has slashed it by 23 million dollars.

That is because the budget was based on a regular case load averaging some 312,000 persons. In recent weeks, he said, the public assistance rolls have been averaging 398,000.

Lawrence also endorsed increased state aid for schools if the Legislature also provides extra tax money to pay for it.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

TWENTY YEARS AGO
Physician To Open Office: Dr. John J. Knox will open an office at 27 York street and enter the practice of medicine in Gettysburg on October 20.

The new physician, who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Knox, Gettysburg R. 3, is a graduate of Gettysburg high school in the class of 1929 and was graduated from Mt. St. Mary's college, Emmitsburg, in 1934. He completed his studies in the University of Maryland medical school four years later.

In July he finished his internship at St. Joseph's hospital in Philadelphia.

Building Projects Being Pushed Before Winter Starts: Keeping pace with the stride set by the building trades in Adams county last spring when a half million dollars worth of construction was launched, contractors are pushing nearly a dozen dwellings, school and church structures and business enlargements toward completion before winter weather comes.

Foundations have been finished and work has started on the super structure of the big new Central Catholic high school in Midway replacing the building destroyed by fire a year and a half ago. A new grade school building already has been finished in McSherrystown.

At Bonneville, the Catholic parish is using its new addition to the parochial school although the auditorium has not yet been completed. Plasterers are working in the new convent close by the school building. It will be ready for use in a month and a half.

In Gettysburg second story brick work has been finished on the new Elks' home to cost more than $40,000 on the former C. M. Wolf property the local lodge bought for $20,000. Luther I. Sachs, the contractor, is aiming for completion by the first of the year.

In Littlestown a large addition to the Windsor Shoe factory is ready for the installation of machinery. Finishing touches have just been put on the double house at the end of East Lincoln avenue completely remodeled by Dr. J. C. Donley.

Last week workmen of I. H. Crouse and sons, Littlestown, began extensive remodeling at the on York street where former car storage space is being converted into office and storeroom quarters.

Several days ago the Littlestown contractors broke ground for two new cases brick dwellings on the Lutheran seminary campus on Springs avenue. They are to be completed in six months.

The Rev. A. R. Longanecker, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church at Littlestown has contracted for the erection of a new home on the north side of Oak Ridge, near North Confederate avenue.

Howard Williams has his new frame dwelling nearly under roof on Hanover street, east of Fifth, and will complete it during the winter.

The brick home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Kenneth Newbould on East Broadway is to be finished within a few weeks.

Crouse carpenters are busy on the story and a half frame dwelling being built a mile north of here along the Harrisburg road by Mr. and Mrs. Hugh C. McIlheny.

On Walnut street in Littlestown electricians are working in the new home of Richard Harner and extensive remodeling is beginning in the Hanover street home, also in Littlestown, just purchased by Anna K. Brookhouse.

Extensive construction work is underway at St. Paul's Lutheran church in Biglerville.

Officers For Rebekah Lodge
Are Installed: Officers elected a week ago and newly appointed officers to serve the Gettysburg lodge of the Daughters of Rebekah of Gettysburg for the next six months were installed at a regular meeting of the organization

Today's Talk

WANT TO BE BETTER — AND YOU WILL BE BETTER

There is nothing so great as the machinery of the mind. Daily it performs miracles without our being conscious of the fact. It is what makes us first-class men and women. But its machinery has to be kept oiled and in top condition. Then it will perform — as a brain always should.

If you want to feel stronger and abler, if you have the hidden desire to go ahead and excel, what can stop you but yourself? Want to be better — and you will be better — in mind, body and in that inner chamber known as the heart. Everything works together in this body of ours. Your Creator saw to that before it was given over to you.

Want to be better, as a man or woman, and you will be better. Happier, more efficient, and more confident. The leadership of the mind is a wonderful thing to develop early in life. Love a great book and you will keep discovering ideas and thoughts that will help you to a well-rounded career, no matter what form that career may take. Time and again I have thought of a line that the great founder of The Kansas City Star, Col. W. R. Nelson, once gave me. He said: "No matter how good the other fellow may be in ideas, there are always better ones that may be yours."

One of the reasons why Nature is so fascinating is that it keeps growing — better and bigger with the years. Those great trees in California have been growing for centuries. How John Muir loved them! How we all love these noble giants! We can harness the most beautiful things in nature, and they will help us to live better and be better.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Battle It Out!" Protected, 1959, by The George Matthews Adams Service

Just Folks

TRUE FRIENDS
Roses bloom and fade,
Lilies droop and die,
Sunshine turns to shade,
Gray becomes the sky.
Joy oft turns to woe,
But through thin and thick
This is good to know:
True friends always stick.

Hope will disappear,
Leaving us despair,
Much that we hold dear
Goes we know not where.
Sorrows will creep in
To wound us to the quick,
But through thick and thin
True friends always stick.

STITCH GAINS BOUT DECISION

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Russell Stitch, Louisville welterweight, scored a decision over No. 3 rated contender Ralph Dupas Wednesday night in a 10-round nationally televised (ABC) bout.

There were no knockdowns as the 144-pound Stitch, ranked No. 8 by the National Boxing Assn., took advantage of a longer reach to catch Dupas with sharp head and body blows.

Louisville promoter Bill King has offered welterweight titleholder Don Jordan $75,000 to fight Stitch here.

Stitch's manager, Bud Bruner, said he has an offer for Stitch to fight Gerald Gray in Jamaica, and King says if the Jordan fight falls through he wants Stitch re-matched against Louis Rodriguez, who whipped him in their first meeting last month.

Dupas, at 145½, scored most of his points in the late rounds when he finally moved in on his opponent.

Stitch is now 22-6, and Dupas 77-13-6.

Thursday evening in the Odd Fellows' rooms in the First National bank building.

Mrs. Bessie Webb, East Middle street, was inducted into office as noble grand succeeding Mrs. Urrila Shields, North Washington street.

Other officers elected and installed follow: Vice grand, Mrs. Mae Coshun; recording secretary, Miss Vergie Musser, re-elected for her seventh term; financial secretary, Mrs. Edna Snyder, re-elected; treasurer, Miss Mary Black; re-elected trustee, Mrs. Annie Wentz, all of Gettysburg, and representative to the Orphans' home at Philadelphia, Mrs. Mabel Knouse, Benderville.

Weaner Heads Dairy Group: Edgar Weaner, Gettysburg dairyman, was elected president of the Adams County Dairy Herd Improvement Association at a meeting of its directors in the court house here Wednesday evening.

Irvin Hostetter, Littlestown, was elected vice president and Allen Walker, Gettysburg R. D., was chosen secretary-treasurer.

LANZA MAY BE INTERRED ON ITALIAN SOIL

ROME (AP)—The body of Mario Lanza was being prepared for burial today, but his widow so far was too upset to decide whether he would rest in the Hollywood he shunned or in Italy.

The golden-voiced American tenor died Wednesday of a heart attack in a Rome clinic. He was only 38.

A family friend said that Lanza's body might be taken to the United States for burial in Hollywood, but there is also a possibility he might be buried in Cocco Casuria, in Italy's Abruzzi region, where his parents were born.

Widow In Seclusion
A spokesman for Mrs. Lanza said "she is still too upset to make any decision now."

The widow was in seclusion in the villa where the young singer's family, including four children, have made their home for several years since he deserted Hollywood.

Friends and fans waited outside for a chance to pay their last respects to Lanza, who started out as a truck driver in Philadelphia and won international acclaim for his voice.

Over the years Lanza waged a battle against overweight, but his death came as a shock. He entered the clinic last week for treatment of hardening of the walls of the arteries leading to the heart. His family and friends had not regarded his illness as critical.

HOCKEY LOOP OPENS TONIGHT

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The talent-laden Montreal Canadiens swing into the 43rd National Hockey League season tonight as the strong favorites to wrap up their fifth straight championship and Stanley Cup.

Boston's Bruins, beaten by Toronto in the first round of the 1958-59 playoffs, furnish the opposition at Montreal.

Coach Toe Blake, who readily admits he has quite a hockey aggregation in the Canadiens, calls the Chicago Black Hawks the team he fears most. Last season the Canadiens eliminated the Hawks in the first round of the Stanley Cup competition after a fierce struggle.

The Hawks whipped the New York Rangers 5-2 in the league opener at Chicago Wednesday night.

With virtually the same crew which surprised last season, the Hawks jumped off to a 1-0 lead in the first period and never were headed. Stan Mikita and Bobby Hull each scored a goal and picked up an assist. Al Arbour, Elmer Vasko and Ron Murphy accounted for the other goals.

LAMBERT VOTES GIVEN BULLETS

NEW YORK (AP) — Delaware and Buffalo, two colleges whose football teams appear a bit above the minor college classification but haven't achieved a major rank, are one-two in the season's first voting of the Lambert Cup committee.

The cup is awarded each year to the eastern small college champion. Buffalo was last year's winner.

Delaware, winner over Lehigh and Massachusetts, scored an average of 9.3 points out of a possible 10 in the voting. Buffalo, which has beaten Temple and Cortland State, scored 8.5.

Third place went to West Chester (Pa.) State with 6.8. Then came Tufts, 4.0, Connecticut 3.5, Juniata and Lafayette 3.1 each, Lehigh 2.7, New Hampshire 2.1 and Maine, Colby and Trinity 2.0 each.

Others receiving votes were Massachusetts, Amherst, Southern Connecticut State, R.P.I., Rochester, Bucknell, Lycoming, Gettysburg and Springfield.

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — The helicopter is not yet here to stay, it seems.

The City Board of Estimates voted Wednesday to reconvert a Baltimore Harbor pier from a heliport to an automobile parking area.

The board was told that in two years of operation the revenue from helicopter traffic at the pier was only $253 while the revenue formerly was $500 monthly when the pier was used for automobile parking.

PTA EXECUTIVE GROUP PLANS FOR ACTIVITIES

The executive committee of the Littlestown Jointure Parent-Teacher Association met on Tuesday evening at the home of the president, Marvin F. Breighner, E. Riley, Rolling Acres principal, informed the executive committee that the elementary school needs portable television sets, a cabinet for film storage and some additional visual education films. Gets Lanza Cable After Death Report
CHICAGO (AP) — White Sox pitcher Earlyn Wynn heard Wednesday en route to Comiskey Park for a workout that singer-actor Mario Lanza had died of a heart attack in Rome.

Opening up his locker at the park, some minutes later, he found a cablegram from Lanza in Rome, congratulating Wynn on his victory in the opening game of the World Series last week.

Wynn said he was shocked at the news of the singer's death. "We had been friends for a long time," he said.

Mechanicsburg Comes Here Friday To Face Warriors; Biglerville Hosts Eagles

Three county scholastic football teams have home engagements this weekend while another, Littlestown, plays at Central, North York, Saturday at 2 p.m.

Two games are scheduled for Friday night at 8 o'clock, Mechanicsburg meeting Gettysburg here in a South Penn Conference game, and at the same hour Biglerville hosts Cumberland Valley in a lower Susquehanna Conference contest.

In a Saturday evening game Delone Catholic entertains York Catholic at McSherrystown. That game will start at 8:30.

Mechanicsburg At Gettysburg

Minor injuries and illness among several squad members will undoubtedly handicap the Gettysburg High Warriors in their clash with Mechanicsburg here Friday night.

Bill Kint, junior guard, who missed the Chambersburg game due to an injured wrist, is out indefinitely. Eddie Baker, another junior who replaced Kint last week, has been ill this week as has Jim Shead, a senior guard. Bob Dean, junior back, has also been felled by illness but should be ready for at least part-time duty.

Don Coldsmith, who suffered a minor injury last week, is expected to be ready for action.

Cats Rate Better

Coach Don Young reports that his scouts have stated Mechanicsburg is not nearly so weak as its winless record indicates. The Wildcats lost their two South Penn encounters to Chambersburg 31-7 and Hanover 42-13. In nonconference games they lost Calvin Coolidge of Washington, D. C., 46 and lost to Shippensburg 19-6. Young and his staff are anticipating a rough, tough battle.

Both teams will be gunning for their first league victory when they meet for the last time. Mechanicsburg is one of three teams dropping from the South Penn organization at the conclusion of the football season.

Joe Sobol, who is piloting the Wildcats for the first time after having been an assistant at Central Dauphin, inherited a group of 11 lettermen but only three were regular starters a year ago.

Two Are Back

The Wildcats' strength appears to be in the backfield where Bill Fortney, 65, senior, and Bill Brechbiel, 140, junior, have been standouts.

The big game in the South Penn League Friday night is the clash between the unbeaten Hershey and Hanover teams at Hanover, the winner of which will be the odds-on favorite to win the title. Waynesboro plays at Carlisle in another conference game.

Nonconference games Friday night include Chambersburg at Windber, and Hummelstown at Middletown.

Cumberland Valley at Biglerville Jack Emanuel's fast-moving Biglerville High Cannons will go after their fourth successive triumph when they meet Cumberland Valley at Biglerville Friday night in a Lower Susquehanna Conference game.

The teams have met one common foe, both bowing to Cedar Cliff by nearly identical scores. The Cannons lost 14-0 in their opener while Cumberland Valley bowed 12-0 last week.

Biglerville is currently pacing the Class B Division of the LSC as the result of their victories over Camp Hill, Juniata Joint and Boiling Springs.

The Eagles have an overall 2-2 mark. In addition to losing to Cedar Cliff, they bowed to Susquehanna 13-7. Their triumphs have been over Hummelstown 2-0 and Big Springs 9-6.

Sam Sanzito, Cumberland Valley mentor, has his sights set on stopping Biglerville's hard running Kermit Jacoby and the passing of eagle-eyed Vance Johnston. He terms Jacoby as the best back his team will face all season. From all angles the game

Grid Leaders Hail From West, Southwest Areas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If you're looking for the individual leader in major college football this season, turn toward the Pacific Coast Big Five and the Southwest's Border Conference. They have them all.

The Stanford passing combination of chucker Dick Norman and catcher Chris Burford controls three categories in the season's second compilation by the NCAA Service Bureau — total offense, passing and pass receivership. Grover Garvin of California gives the Big Five another leader in punt returns.

Adds Scoring Lead

Pervis Atkins of New Mexico State added the scoring lead to his first place in rushing last week. Joe Zuger of Arizona State is first in punting and Joe Allen of Hardin-Simmons in kickoff returns.

Norman ran up against last year's total offense champion, Dick Bass of College of the Pacific last Saturday and out-pitched him by 221 yards to 149. As a result, the Stanford junior now has this record:

Total offense: 594 yards on 82 plays.

Littlestown At Central

Littlestown High, gunning for another Laurel Conference championship, takes on Central of North York on the latter's field Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The Thunderbolts, 2-0 in the conference and 3-1 overall, will undoubtedly be the favorite to win their fourth in a row but may be given a surprise by the fast improving Panthers.

Central got off to a poor start in suffering a 36-6 drubbing at the hands of Manheim Central. The Panthers then suffered a 19-19 deadlock with York Suburban and last week turned back Susquehanna 14-0 in their lone Laurel League game.

Coach Bob Bowers has 16 lettermen on his squad which has plenty of speed but is lacking somewhat in weight. He has veterans available for every position.

Coach Wib Gobrecht has come up with another fine outfit at Littlestown which has shown constant improvement since its opening loss to Shippensburg.

York Catholic At Delone

York Catholic, victorious in four straight, will make a desperate effort to crash into the win column at the expense of Delone at McSherrystown Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock.

The game was originally scheduled for Friday evening but was changed last week in order not to conflict with the Hershey-Hanover game at Hanover Friday night.

The Fighting Irish have been having a rough time this season, losing all of their games to date as follows: Middletown 26-0, Susquehanna 20-7, Bishop McDevitt 26-0 and York Suburban 7-0.

Coach John Sinkovitz is attempting to raise his squad's spirit to its highest level to gain a victory which would do much to salvage an otherwise bleak campaign.

Bucky Kempton's Squires are 2-2 for the campaign and were very impressive in turning back Lancaster Catholic last week 28-6. Delone is reported at full manpower this week and should chalk up its third win.

Passing: 46 completions on 72 attempts for a 667 average and 576 yards.

Atkins is second in the total offense table with 486 yards, all gained by rushing, and Penn State passer Richie Lucas is third with 437 yards.

Norman has completed 14 more passes than runner-up Gale Weidner of Colorado, who moved up from fourth place last week, and has pitched for 165 more yards.

Burford has caught 17 passes, three more than Bill Carpenter, Army's lonely end, and Sammy Oates of Hardin-Simmons and is first in yardage gained by passing with 239.

Atkins is far ahead in running with 486 yards on 60 carries to 347 on 56 by Tom Watkins of Iowa State. His eight touchdowns and one extra point give him 49 points to 38 for Phil Lavoie of South Carolina.

Zuger averaged 52.5 yards on four punts against Montana State to bring this season average to 49.9 yards. Garvin has run back five punts for 116 yards and Allen has returned nine kickoffs for 205 yards.

MOUNT SOCCER COACH USING PLATOON PLAY

Mount St. Mary's soccer coach Jim Deegan is experimenting with platoon play this season in the hope of raising the Mountaineer standing in Mason-Dixon Conference play. As in the past Deegan finds himself with a squad that boasts only four men through the first two teams who have had prior experience. As a result the former West Chester star has to start again with fundamental skills while trying to stave off the experienced booters from the conference's strong teams.

Against American U. in the season's opener Deegan played his platoons in alternate quarters. Trailing at the end of the half on a goal scored against his second quarter team, Deegan saw his starting group come back with two quick goals. The Mountaineers lost their advantage in the fourth quarter when a freshman handled the ball in the penalty area and regulation play ended in a tie. Eventually the fresher Mountaineer starting squad was able to edge the Eagles 4-3 in the second overtime.

Applying Pressure

Deegan hopes that by running the opposition and keeping the pressure on, his green outfit may be able to pull out those games in which his team is only a goal down starting the final quarter. At the same time his inexperienced players will learn under fire and improve more quickly than in the past.

The Mountaineers look for no miracles this season but they are hopeful of winding up with the first winning season in Mountaineer history. The starting squad is not yet well moulded but it has four men who have ability to score—a switch from past squads where the load rested on one man's shoulders. Sophomore Pete Kuhn, a Philadelphia product, who won all star mention last season; junior Bill Blandford of Brandywine, Md.; Pete Williams, Worcester, Mass., and Bob Brown, Centreville, Md., are the keys to the Mountaineer attack. Deegan has co-captain Blandford and freshman George Hahn, ex-Calvert Hall operative, at the wings; Kuhn and freshman Bob Brown at the inside slots; and Williams at the center forward post. Deegan expects the attack to improve as his line picks up finesse and better teamwork.

Have Co-Captains

Seniors and co-captains John Troffo, Ridley Park, Pa., and Bob Segrell, Brooklyn, are teaming with Fred Szalay, Summit, N. J., to give Deegan strong fast half-backs with Troffo a stickout. Segrell is one of the Mount's top athletes having won letters in cross country, track, baseball, and soccer while carrying a 90 scholastic average as a member of the Tierney Honor Society.

At the full back spots Deegan has seniors Ed Grace, Mamaronck, N. J., and Bill Taczlosky, Mahoney City, Pa. Both are first year men experience wise, but their size and speed and their ability to work together won them starting slots.

Jack Gunn, Mount eagle and diamond star, replaces Jim O'Connor, 1st team all-southern goalie, in the net. Gunn took over for O'Connor on several occasions last season when the latter was injured. Deegan like his good hands and quick reactions and expects Gunn to be a solid performer with added experience.

Alternate Units

Deegan's alternate units — the second and fourth quarter teams — has six sophomores and five freshmen. At the wings are Jack Bransfield, Hicksville, N. Y., and Dean Marraccini, Clairton, Pa. Jack Bruno, Brooklyn, N. Y., and Larry Hubner, Seaford, N. Y., are at the inside posts, and Ken Jones, of Mount St. Joe's, Baltimore, is center forward. Halfbacks are Mike Humerick, Emmitsburg, Pa. Mike Williams, Worcester, Mass., and Digger Donovan, Wilmington, Del. Mike Costello, Washington, D. C., a DeMatha football star, is playing goal, with Ed Hulse, Beverly, N. J., and Jack Dolan, Hicksville, N. Y., at fullback. Only Williams, Donovan and Hubner have had experience in this group.

Standouts among the first year men are Bob Brown, George Hahn and Jones. The latter has all the skills Deegan is looking for but is slow aloof. Humerick has good potential but needs experience with a passing team since he played kick and run in high school.

The remaining schedule follows: October 10, Catholic U., H: 13; Frostburg, H: 16; Loyola, H: 19; Roanoke, H: 21; Washington, H: 23; Randolph-Macon, A: 31; Howard, A: November 7, Towson, A.

WISCONSIN, PURDUE MEET ON SATURDAY

By JACK CLARY

Associated Press Sports Writer

Can the nation's seventh-ranked offense overcome the eighth-ranked defense? Will the top pick for Big Ten honors beat the No. 2 choice? Wisconsin and Purdue will supply the answers when they meet Saturday and they may spell out R-O-S-E B-O-W-L.

Wisconsin is picked to win the Big Ten crown and the trip to the Rose Bowl. Purdue was picked to be runner-up.

Wisconsin's run for the roses could come to a screeching halt with a loss, or it could go right on until the Badgers meet Northwestern, the other contender, Nov. 7 for what may be the privilege to spend New Year's Day in the Rose Bowl.

Loss Quarter Back

Purdue, which does not meet Northwestern, could keep right on going with a victory. But the Boilermakers realize that their hopes may have ended last Saturday when quarterback Ross Fichtner broke a shoulder. He is through for the year.

Five members of Princeton's team were in the infirmary because of an unidentified virus. One was tailback Hugh Scott, still expected to start against Penn Saturday.

Clemson lost No. 1 center Paul Snyder with a torn ligament in his leg as the Tigers prepped for North Carolina State. Colorado lost its top end, Chuck McBride, with a neck injury. He will miss Saturday's game with Kansas State.

Guards Bob Longfellow, Regie Coustillac and Paul Hodge, and fullback Tom Cunningham are doubtful starters for Pitt against Duke this Saturday.

BHS SPIDERS TOP BUBBLERS

The Biglerville seventh and eighth grade Spiders annexed their second straight victory Wednesday afternoon by defeating Boiling Springs 20-13 at Biglerville.

In the first period Mike Constable shot off left tackle and raced 45 yards for the Cannons' first score. Mike Kane pitched a pass to Corky Bedford for the point.

A pass-play, covering 80 yards, Kane to Bob Bream, end, gave Biglerville its second TD in the second period. Again Kane fired a pass to Bedford for the extra point.

Bedford pounced on a Bubbler fumble on the Boiling Springs' 25 on the first play following the second half kickoff to set the stage for the third Biglerville tally. On the next play Horick circled left end to score. A pass for the point fell incomplete.

Boiling Springs took to the air-lanes to register both its scores in the final frame. Don Miller hurled to scoring passes to Art Brandt, the first covering 40 yards and the second 55, to produce the tallies. Following the first TD Miller also passed to Brandt for the point.

Biglerville's next engagement will be with the Gettysburg Spiders here on October 21.

consolation and the feature race covering 25 laps will ring down the curtain on Lincoln's 59 campaign.

While Kerchner has yet to grab off the checkered flag in a main event, he has placed among the leaders consistently this season and holds a slight edge heading into the finale. He's due back in No. 61, a yellow Olds.

The Hanover driver can expect his chief competition to come from Dick Christine (74) and Willie Musselman (11), each of whom has won three features; Jim Smith (X) and John Laughman (111), credited with two feature wins apiece.

Lincoln promoter Hilly Rife said he expects to open the Hills track for 1960 competition about the middle of next May.

Junior Hi Meets Waynesboro Here Tonight At 7

The Gettysburg Junior High School football squad will make its debut before home fans tonight at 7 o'clock when it clashes with Waynesboro in a South Penn Junior High League game.

Don Bickel's Braves opened their season last week by being forced to accept a 13-13 tie with Faust at Chambersburg, the Franklin Countians tying the score in the closing seconds of play.

Meanwhile Waynesboro lost a league encounter to Shippensburg 19-7.

Both teams will be at full strength for tonight's game.

In other league games today, Chambersburg Central plays at Hanover while Shippensburg is at Washington Township.

RACER SETS 4 MARKS BUT HAS 2 CLOSE CALLS

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (AP) — America's fastest automobile driver headed for his California home Wednesday richer by four international speed records and wiser by at least two brushes with death.

Mickey Thompson, 30, of El Monte, Calif., in three days of running on the salt flats of western Utah, smashed four international speed marks that have stood since the late English driver John Cobb, set them in 1939.

In one of Thompson's record attempts Tuesday, his oxygen mask tube broke loose in the fume-choked cockpit behind the roaring four engines of his racer, Challenger I. Thompson drove the car with an oxygen tube in his mouth in order to prevent being overcome by the fumes. Earlier in the week his car skidded off the course and sustained some dents.

Stopped By Weather

Thompson was deeply discouraged Tuesday night when high winds and rain forced him to cancel an attempt on the world's top automobile speed of 394.2 m.p.h. set here in 1947 by Cobb.

In two earlier runs Tuesday, Thompson set the following international marks which must be confirmed by the International Automobile Federation.

For the flying five-kilometer 351.95 m.p.h., compared to Cobb's 326.7; the flying five-mile at 342.54 compared to Cobb's 302; the flying 10-kilometer at 325.65 compared to the Englishman's 283.0 and the flying 10-mile at 292.0 compared to the old mark of 270.4.

SOX TO STAY IN AL FLAG RACES

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago White Sox

"forgotten man," Vice President Chuck Comiskey, predicted today the Sox will be pennant contenders for five to eight seasons.

"The strongest clubs in baseball — as far as reaching down for minor league talent is concerned — the White Sox and the Milwaukee Braves," said 33-year-old Chuck, last of his clan in baseball.

Comiskey, the 46 per cent minority stockholder in the Bill Veck-dominated organization, is confident the White Sox will capture the World Series from the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Front office-wise, there was not much to guarantee a Sox pennant this season. The campaign began in the wake of a bitter legal battle between huck and his sister Dorothy Comiskey Rigney and the eventual purchase by Veck of Dorothy's 54 per cent holdings.

At any rate, the managerial touch of Al Lopez brought the White Sox to a victorious climb over the collapsed New York Yankees.

Mount Soccer Team Defeated

Mt. St. Mary's (1-1) dropped its first soccer game of the young season to Western Maryland (1-0) at Westminster Wednesday afternoon 3-1.

The Mountaineers' lone goal came in the third period and was booted by Bob Brown.

SPIDERS LOSE 7-0 TILT AT CHAMBERSBURG

The Gettysburg High School Spiders dropped their second game in as many starts Wednesday afternoon when they lost a hard-fought 7-0 decision at Chambersburg.

In the second period Chambersburg's Oiler raced over from the six-yard line for the only touchdown of the game. The score was made possible after Chambersburg recovered a fumble deep in Gettysburg territory. Martin plunged for the point.

Gettysburg's best bid for a tally came in the last period when it started a drive which reached the Chambersburg 15 as time ran out.

FIRE COMPANY
NOMINATES: TO ELECT IN DEC.

Candidates were nominated for company officers and changes in bylaws were adopted at the October meeting of the Alpha Fire Company of Littlestown Tuesday evening at the engine house. The nominations were proposed by a committee including Jay D. Basehoar, George W. Strevig and Leslie Shinham.

Edward L. Warner and Dennis Wallick were placed in nomination for the presidency. The other nominations follow:

Vice president, Wilbur Mayers and Glenn Unger; secretary, Harry W. Badders; treasurer, Paul E. Altoff; fire chief, Kenneth Shambrook; truck foreman, Levi Hull; chief nozzleman, Richard Stuller and Jack Rebert; pipe foreman, James P. Hahn; trustees, one for five years and one for three years, Robert C. Koonitz, Howard Myers, Monroe G. Morelock, Clair J. Redding and George E. Hornberger; trustee for relief fund for three years, James U. Bowers. Nominations were open from the floor and will remain open through the November 2 meeting. The election will take place in December.

Bylaws Changed

The meeting was in charge of President Clair J. Redding and opened with "America," group prayer and a moment of silence out of respect to the memory of John B. Sterner, member who recently passed away, and who was the oldest member in years of membership in the company with more than 50 years' service. Harry W. Badders presented the secretary's report and a report of the bylaws committee. Henry E. Waltman, chairman, followed.

The bylaws changes adopted provide that to join the company a membership card must be signed by three members of the company. The prospective member shall be present when the application is presented and will be introduced by the company president to the company members and may remain as a guest for the evening of that meeting. At the next regular meeting the application will be voted upon and, if the candidate is elected, he will serve a probationary period of one year during which he must attend six regularly scheduled meetings or his membership will be automatically dropped. The fire chief and his assistant will be responsible for instructing the probationary member in the use of the fire fighting equipment at least once every three months during the first year or probationary period. A change in the bylaws concerning dues was also made, providing for increase in basic dues from $1 to $1.50 per year. This increase is due to the fact that the county association has raised the per capita from 50 cents to $1 and at the same time raised the insurance from $50 to $75.

Report On School Property

George W. Strevig reported for the trustees on their investigation of the sale of the East King Street School building and informed the company members that the trustees had met with the property and supplies committee of the Littlestown Joint School System and were told that several ways of disposing of this building are under consideration but there is nothing definite so far. The committee agreed that when they decide on the procedure to be followed they will notify the trustees so the proposition can be presented to the fire company members.

Paul E. Altoff, chairman of the carnival finance committee, turned over the checks for the carnival receipts and the solicitation receipts to the treasurer. He also reported that the company will sponsor a smoker on Friday, October 23, and tickets at $2 each may be secured from any member of the company. The committee for arranging the smoker includes Lake Shambrook, Paul E. Altoff, Ivan Rickode, Burnell R. Keagy, Levi Hull, Richard Stuller and James Hahn. Fireman Altoff also reported that progress is being made on the special fund raising project of the company, to help defray expenses for the 75th anniversary celebration of the company in July, 1960.

No Fire Calls

Fire Chief Glenn E. Ohler reported that there had been no fire calls during the past month. He also explained to the company the "quick-call" system which is being installed in the majority of the company's engine houses which are members of the Adams County's Firemen's Association. The company voted to go along with this system, after explanation and discussion and a quick call unit will be installed at the engine house. Efforts will be made to secure financial assistance through Civilian Defense, to help defray the expenses of installation.

The discussion of several months ago concerning the special stickers which may be placed on windows or doors of invalids, or of anyone who would need help in case of fire or emergency, was continued at Tuesday's meeting. It was decided that each fireman would be a committee of one in his own neighborhood and contact those people who would like to take advantage of

The POWER of FAITH by Howard Brodie

As the sun went down on the Jungle Warfare Training Center at Fort Sherman, Canal Zone, yesterday travel-weary Rabbi Nathan Witkin reverently unrolled the sacred Torah to begin services for Rosh Hashanah, the Jewish New Year.

Rabbi Witkin, the representative of the National Jewish Welfare Board in the Canal Zone, had just returned from his annual 10,000-mile flight around the Caribbean arranging for services in Jamaica, Trinidad, Virgin Islands, Cuba and South America.

It was Rabbi Witkin's deep faith in God, in himself and in his mission that enabled him to carry on his work after his wife, Esther, was killed 17 years ago when a military plane crashed into their home.

"Religious faith has for me a two-fold meaning," says Rabbi Witkin. "The acceptance of the precepts of Judaism as taught in our Torah and the observance of these precepts in our dealings with our fellow man. I believe further that man is blessed by the Almighty if he is given the opportunity during his lifetime to be of service to his fellow man."

Firemen who have someone in their neighborhood who would like these stickers at their homes may secure the stickers from the secretary. Members will report at the next meeting on coverage in the community, and if any section has not been covered, efforts will be made to complete the survey following the November meeting. Leslie Shinham was appointed chairman in charge.

Bills were ordered paid amounting to $555.04 and receipts of the evening, including the carnival checks, totaled $6,904.14.

An invitation was received from the Friendship Fire Company, Pennville, to attend their open house on Friday, October 16, beginning at 8 p.m. The public is invited to the open house on Sunday, October 18, from 1 to 5 p.m. A letter of thanks was read from

W. Robert Stover, for conferring on him life membership in the company and in the Adams County Firemen's Association. A $500 bond belonging to the company has matured and authorization was voted for the treasurer to cash this bond after which the trustees will decide how the amount is to be reinvested.

The fire company film "See Yourself In The Movies" which was filmed in March and April, 1941, and which was shown recently at the party for the firemen who worked at the carnival, was discussed with the thought that perhaps the film could be repainted. This possibility will be investigated and if the cost is not

Two Are Burned To Death
When Gasoline Tank Bursts

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP)—Flaming gasoline killed two persons and burned five others when a 20,000-gallon storage tank went up with a roar in the southern section of the city Wednesday.

Firemen prevented the blaze from spreading to nine other tanks at the Gulf Oil Co. bulk storage yard.

G. W. Dubose, 31, was trying to fix a leaky safety valve at the base of the tank containing high octane gasoline at the time of the flareout. He died instantly.

Otis L. Robinson, 39, also trying to stop the leak, stepped back to wipe his face. The flames engulfed him too. He died in a hospital a few hours later.

Burned critically were Mrs. J.

B. Harper Jr., 34, who operates a tire and supply firm with her husband in the Gulf storage lot;

Fred W. Mitchell, 52, office manager for Gulf; and Ivan Garrett,

38, a Gulf employee.

Treated and released were Melvin Taylor, 37, a Gulf employee, and John Franklin Moore, 22, a volunteer fireman.

There was no immediate estimate of the damage.

Taylor said he believed a spark caused by static electricity may have started the fire.

Johnny Podres of the Dodgers beat the Giants three times without losing during 1959. His career record is 10-10 against the Giants.

BIG CASUALTY LIST SEEN IN NEW TV SHOWS

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The current television season, now in its adolescence, has so far produced some 35 new shows. But even before the debutante season has concluded, the industry is anticipating a big casualty list by January.

A number of the series shows, which have been seen only a few times, are already in what the TV business calls "trouble." And trouble in television means that, according to the rating services, there aren't enough people dialing them in.

Variety, show business trade paper, recently ran a piece suggesting that the public is finally getting bored with Westerns. At least one private eye series is seriously ailing.

Some Rewarding Hours
"Beware of one-woman surveys," an advertising agency executive recently cautioned me. Despite the warning, I will venture the opinion that we are not so much tiring of Western and private eye series as we are of a monotonous diet of shows so much alike that most of us can't tell which program we're tuned in on.

Nevertheless, there have been many rewarding hours of television viewing this fall — some fine drama, some rich comedy and much pleasant music. And there promises to be many more.

There seems to be concern over the size of audiences for the big, expensive and generally superior special shows.

Laboratory Report
Perhaps the producers overestimated the pulling power of the more adult, sophisticated special shows. One motivation research outfit (Consumer Behavior Laboratories) reports that, as more people have acquired television sets, interest in live drama, sports and satire has declined while that in situation comedy and Westerns increased.

"The situation comedy and Western find their strongest audience among children and among lower educated population groups who have been playing an ever greater role in the ratings," the report states. "... As long as ratings alone are the criterion for what goes on the air, we will continue to get programs that highlight the elements which attract the less mature portions of the public."

ADMITS MURDER IN $2 THEFT

Under questioning, police said, the Negro, identified as Charles Baisten, related the sack held a can of hair spray, a box of cough drops, and a coloring book—all valued at about $2.

The victim, Samuel Schwartz, 16, stumbled down a stairway to street level after he had been stabbed and died shortly afterward.

In his pockets was $30, his pay for part-time work in his uncle's South Side drug store.

Police held Baisten without charge for further questioning.

NASSER SAYS HE'S READY TO "COOPERATE"

By WILTON WYNN

CAIRO (AP)—President Gamal Abdel Nasser says he is ready to accept a United Nations commission that would implement all U. N. resolutions relating to Israel and the Arabs—including the 1951 Security Council resolutions calling for freedom of shipping in the Suez Canal.

Nasser emphasizes, however, that resolutions applying to Israel must be carried out along with those affecting the United Arab Republic.

These include the plan to give Palestine Arab refugees the right to return to their former homes in Israel or accept compensation, the 1957 plan for partition of Palestine and the internationalization of Jerusalem, which Israel has consistently rejected. He wants these implemented as well as the resolution ordering Egypt to allow Israeli shipping through the canal.

Asked About Plan

"If Israel accepts all U. N. resolutions, we will accept the Security Council resolution of 1951," Nasser said in a joint interview Wednesday with The Associated Press and The Christian Science Monitor.

He was asked if he has a concrete proposal for carrying out the resolutions.

"I can say we are ready to accept a United Nations board or commission to put these resolutions into effect for both Israel and us," he replied. "But it would be unfair if only we are asked to implement the resolutions on our side while Israel does not implement those on her side."

First Time

Nasser said such a board might be the old Palestine Conciliation Commission, established in 1949 to implement U. N. resolutions, or a new body.

Although the Arabs have demanded implementation of U. N. resolutions in the past, this is the first time Nasser has proposed the use of a commission.

There is no indication Israel would agree to the plan. The Israelis have repeatedly turned down the 1947 partition proposal, which would mean a loss of territory they occupied in the Palestine War of 1948.

RETURN TRIP MAPPED FOR RUSS LUNIK

By PRESTON GROVER

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Lunik III, its historic trip past the moon completed, presumably continued on out into space today on a wide curving course scheduled to bring it rocketing back past the earth Oct. 18.

An official announcement Wednesday night said the 614-pound flying vehicle will not start its turn back toward the earth until Saturday, after reaching a point 292,043 miles from the earth.

When radio contact was made Wednesday, the vehicle was 78,750 miles from the moon and 258,957 miles from the earth.

Results Unknown

There was no word on the results — if any — of the vehicle's survey of the hidden side of the moon. The announcement said only that "the scientific measuring instruments, the thermal regulation and power supply systems, continue functioning normally."

"After passing the point of minimum distance from the moon," the announcement said, "the automatic interplanetary station continues to move firmly along the pre-set orbit."

The announcement added that Lunik's "shortest distance from the earth's surface will be about 40,000 kilometers (24,854 miles)" when it passes the planet.

After Prediction

At the time of last Sunday's launching, Soviet scientists predicted the vehicle might approach within 1,240 miles of the earth. But the new figure indicated it would continue in orbit indefinitely, since it would be far out of the earth's atmospheric friction which would burn it up on contact.

Deaths

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

ROSS, England (AP)—Lt. Gen. Sir Sidney Clive, 85, who had a distinguished military career in World War I, and since 1952 an extra equerry to Queen Elizabeth, died Wednesday after he was assisted out from his burning home.

ROME (AP)—Mario Lanza, 38, golden voiced tenor of the movies and recording machines, died at the peak of his career Wednesday of a heart attack. Lanza, who liked being called the reincarnation of the Italian opera star Enrico Caruso, rose from Philadelphia's "Little Italy" and truck driving to a million dollars a year singing career.

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—Frank Nuderscher, 79, a painter of murals shown in major cities of this country, died Wednesday of a heart ailment.

FEW FANS OUT AT DAYBREAK

CHICAGO (AP)—A thin crowd of some 200 persons formed a haphazard line at Comiskey Park sale of standing room and bleacher seats for the sixth World Series game.

Some of the policemen in the detail that kept a watchful eye on the goings-on expressed surprise that the turnout was so small for the crucial game. One said there were nearly as many vendors hawking pennants, sandwiches, soft drinks and World Series memorabilia as there were fans in line.

There was little, if any, necessity for fires to warm the as-doomed when the Dade County School Board assigned 379 more Negro pupils to Orchard Villa Elementary.

Parents of the 14 white pupils in the school indicated that they now will take them out.

The school board admitted four Negroes to Orchard Villa at the start of the fall term, along with 14 whites. The district in which the previously all-white school is situated has in recent years become virtually all-Negro.

To Replace Staff It had been expected that the school board eventually would open the school up to the Negro children of the neighborhood, a move that would make it an all-Negro school.

A total of 67 white children in the Orchard Villa district are attending all-white schools elsewhere.

The 379 Negroes will enter the school Monday. The present all-white staff will be replaced with a Negro principal and teachers.

In another action, the board rejected applications of 11 Negroes seeking to attend other all-white schools. Three had applied for admission to Coral Gables High, and one each to Edison and Jackson High, Miami Beach Junior High, and Fulford Elementary.

PRESIDENT ENDS BRIEF VACATION

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—President Eisenhower, his health "greatly improved," flies back to Washington today for decision on use of the Taft-Hartley law in the steel strike.

Eisenhower, who came to this desert resort area Sept. 30 in an effort to shake a cold, arranged to leave for Washington aboard an Air Force jet airliner.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, told newsmen that after seven full days of basking in the sun the President's cold was "greatly improved although he still has traces of it. He has not completely gotten rid of it."

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The guided missile frigate Mahan was launched Wednesday at the San Francisco naval shipyard. The Mahan represents a new concept in destroyer design, the Navy said, with conventional armament supplemented by the Terrier, a surface-to-air guided missile.

Son Of Murderer Held For Forgery

DETROIT, Mich. (AP)—David P. Russell Jr. was a baby when his father was sent to prison for life in 1931 for killing another man over a debt.

Russell, now 29, pleaded guilty Wednesday to forging his father's name to $1,350 in U.S. Savings Bonds. The father, 59, had bought the bonds with money earned from shining shoes at Southern Michigan Prison.

Young Russell, a service station attendant, said he cashed the bonds and used the money to pay debts. He was released on $1,000 bail pending sentence in U.S. District Court.

LONG RANGE GOP GOALS SUGGESTED

By D. HAROLD OLIVER

WASHINGTON (AP) — American foreign policy should give top priority to "peaceful liberation" of captive peoples from Communist domination, a Republican study committee said today.

"We must encourage and exploit any weakening of the bonds that tie the satellites to Moscow," said the 40-member committee, named last March to recommend long-range goals for the GOP.

It thus sounded the "liberation" note that formed a prominent part of the Republican party's 1952 platform, but which administration foreign policy pronouncements have soft-pedaled in recent years. The committee, however, was careful to qualify its liberation proposal with the words "peaceful" and "nonviolent."

The group, called the Committee on Program and Progress, also endorsed a proposed international agreement for the demilitarization of outer space.

Its 8,500-word report on "national security and peace," made public by the Republican National Committee, is a comprehensive statement on foreign and defense policies, recommended as guide lines for future party planning.

In the foreign affairs field, the report favored (1) progressive shifting of foreign economic aid from government grants to private investments and loans, (2) conditional trade with Communist states that will "help thaw the cold war," and (3) creation of an emergency military force by the United Nations in the event of crisis.

Getting Ready To Move Iron Ore

CLEVELAND (AP)—If a decision is made to invoke the Taft-Hartley law and halt the steel strike for 80 days, just about everything that will float and carry iron ore will be made ready to haul the red dirt.

Should the striking United Steelworkers be ordered back to work under Taft-Hartley Law procedure, it will take about four days to round up crews and get the big vessels underway, shipping sources here say. Most of the lakes ore-shiping crewmen are United Steelworkers Union members.

Only 37 vessels of the 243 in the Great Lakes are fleet were operating last month, and most of these were in the grain and coal trade.

Wilmington Moves To Conserve Water

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—The city of Wilmington is taking steps to assure it will continue getting adequate water supplies from the Brandywine River, its sole source.

Council President John E. Bialczak, said Tuesday that City Solicitor Stewart Lynch is to meet soon with an engineering consultant firm and with a water rights attorney.

The concern over the water supply results from action by Pennsylvania to develop the Upper Brandywine watershed. One such action was legislative permission for the city of West Chester, Pa., to divert millions of gallons daily from the Brandywine.

U. S. NUCLEAR EXPERTS WILL GO TO RUSSIA

WASHINGTON (AP)—A group of top U.S. nuclear experts leaves today for the Soviet Union, starting an exchange of visits and information with Soviet scientists.

The visits may be the forerunner of an increased exchange of nonmilitary atomic information. But neither of the hosts is expected to disclose any new information during the tours.

Chairman John A. McCone of the Atomic Energy Commission will head a delegation of six experts leaving for Moscow late today. Prof. Vasily S. Emelyanov, Soviet director of peaceful uses of atomic energy, is expected to bring a group of Soviet specialists here next month.

The exchanges were arranged by McCone and Emelyanov while the Soviet scientist was here last month with Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Making the 10-day trip with McCone will be Dr. John H. Williams, an AE member; Dr. Frank K. Pittman, director of the AEC's Division of Reactor Development; Dr. Alvin Weinberg, director of Oak Ridge National Laboratory; Dr. Lyman Spitzer Jr., director of thermonuclear research, Princeton University; and Dr. Kenneth Pitzer, dean of the College of Chemistry, University of California.

BATAVIA, N. Y. (AP)—Police Chief Stanley N. Smith, answering complaints that the city's 10 p. m. curfew on youths under 16 is not being enforced, retorted Tuesday that the law is "lousy" and his policemen have more important things to do "than be baby sitters." He said it's the parents' job to instill good behavior in their youngsters.

IRAQ PREMIER SHOT 4 TIMES; WOUNDS MINOR

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Authorities today sought to head off mob violence in Iraq after the attempted assassination of Premier Abdel Karim Kassem in Baghdad. Kassem was shot three times but the Iraqi government said he suffered only minor wounds.

The 45-year-old revolutionary leader was fired on Wednesday by an unidentified gunman during his regular afternoon drive down Baghdad's main street. Official announcements did not link the assailant — who apparently escaped — with any group.

Assures Populace
Kassem assured the populace of his well-being in a radio broadcast from his hospital bed. He blamed the attack "on traitors who wanted to get rid of me so the people would be without leadership."

The premier's voice sounded weak and depressed. Listeners thought he must have been in

Attempted Assassination Stirs Tension In Mid-East

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

The attempt to assassinate Iraq's Premier indicates a new and vastly confused crisis boiling up in the Middle East.

This time, world communism would be directly involved. The United States and its Western partners likely would seem to the majority of Arabs less the villains and more the innocent bystanders.

The prospect of new turmoil in the Arab East can hardly be pleasant for the United States and the West. All such crises are dangerous. The next one could be all the more so if it develops into a test of strength between Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic and those who challenge his claim to Arab leadership.

Rigid Martial Law
No matter what the source of the attempt on Premier Abdel Karim Kassem's life in Baghdad, the incident will bring on a period of rigid martial law in which the leader of the 15-month-old Iraqi revolution will try to keep his enemies at bay.

Lancaster, spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Murray Baumgardner, Frederick St.

This comes at an opportune moment for the Communists. Nasser is involved in a violent war of words with Baghdad. He also is embroiled in a nasty quarrel with Communist China, which more and more has been attempting to throw its weight around in the Middle East.

This quarrel came about as the result of an attempt by the Arab Communists — and the Chinese Communists — to ally themselves with the fledgling Iraqi republic against Nasser. This drew indignant response from Cairo. It happened less than a week ago.

Outlawed Political Parties
But first, here is some background: When Nasser's U.A.R. absorbed Syria, Cairo outlawed all organized political parties, leaving only Egypt's United National Front. The Communists had been strong in Syria, which had been their Middle East headquarters. The merger forced them to go underground and their leaders in flight. Among those who fled was Khaled Bakdash, the handsome non-Arab Kurd who heads the Arab Reds.

Baghdad offered a new opportunity. With the revolution, the Communists moved in strongly and were largely responsible for generating a fantastic Baghdad-Cairo feud. The Communists apparently had no intention of losing their foothold in Iraq as they had, through Nasser's influence, in Syria.

Attacks Nasser
Last week, Bakdash showed up in Peiping. There he made a violent speech attacking Nasser and accusing him of plotting to take over Iraq.

Cairo, already deeply involved in propaganda warfare with Baghdad, lodged a strong protest in Peiping. The Cairo press and radio poured abuse on the Chinese Communists as new imperialists.

The assassination attempt in Baghdad likely will step up the word war between Iraq and the U.A.R. In turn, this could have the effect of strengthening the Communist hand in Iraq itself.

It seems unlikely that the Communists will attempt to take over in Iraq. They don't seem strong enough, and the Red goal in the Middle East appears to be to create chaos which will reverberate throughout the area, affecting, for example, non-Arab

JURY TO GET KOVACH CASE

UNIONTOWN, Pa. (AP) — The jury was expected to receive the case today against Joseph Kovach, Fayette County district attorney, charged with violating the state election code.

Opposing attorneys summed up their cases Wednesday. Visiting Judge John J. Pentz of Clearfield county was slated to charge the jury today.

Atty. Thomas Waggoner, in his defense summation, declared that there is someone who wants to destroy Kovach "personally, politically and professionally."

Iran, Iraq's eastern neighbor.

Nasser Remains Strong

Nasser remains strong in his Arab following. But the Communists are working on him. Possibly they hope that they can create conditions in which Nasser might lose his luster for his Arab following. The result of this surely would be incessant turmoil, a situation in which the Communists could hope to do their most effective work. Their aim would not be conquest in the foreseeable future, but rather to render that whole vital area uninhabitable for Western influence.

SEQUIOIA—Magic Circle Area of the Week: California Wonderland Tour Includes Bakersfield, Fresno.

By EDWARD COLLIER

The largest and most noble of living things, the "King" of canyons, rich fruit-producing farm land, famous waterfalls, mighty mountains—all are within a Magic Circle hub of superlatives that revolve around Sequoia National Park in California.

To know the true and deep meaning of the oft-used phrase "majesty of nature," there is no spot the world over to compare with standing in the presence of the giant sequoia trees.

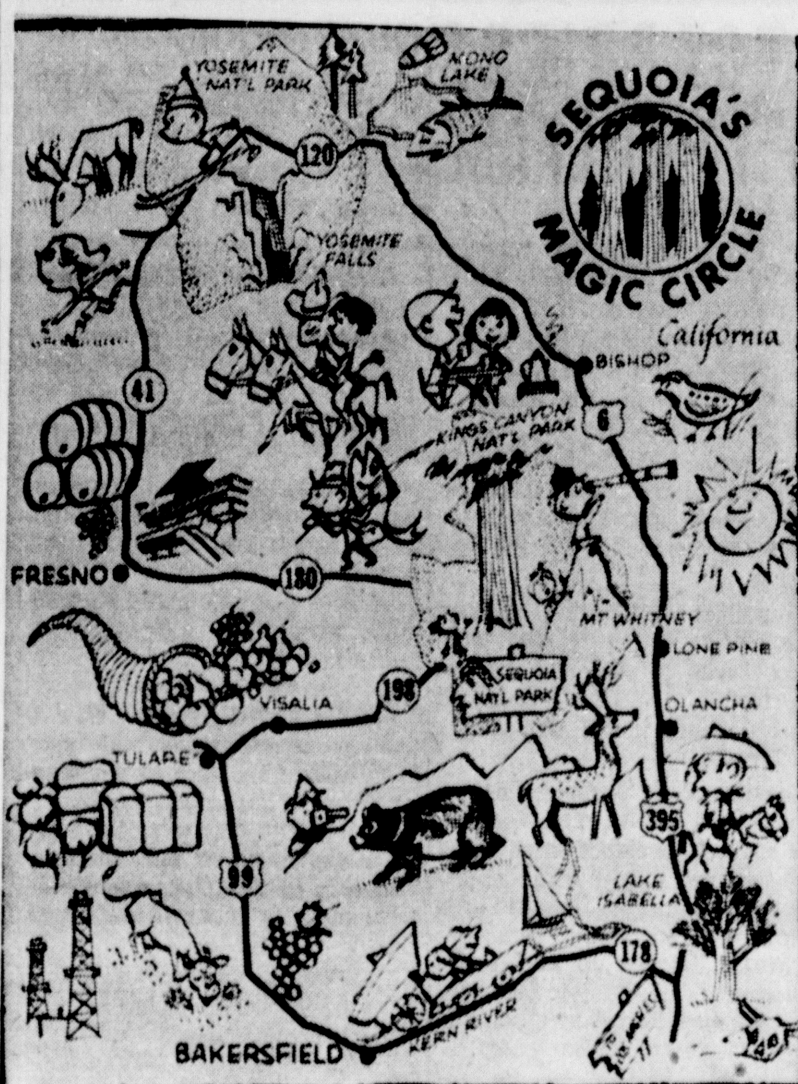

In this age of missiles and space-travel talk, the quieting effect on impatient humans is amazing. These forest monarchs, oldesters when Nero fiddled and Rome burned, have traveled skyward at an average speed of but three-quarters of an inch a year. Their pay load could be 600,000 board feet; their count down, more than 3,500 years.

To enjoy these proud giants, start your Magic Circle at Bakersfield, the southern boundary of the lush San Joaquin Valley. Bakersfield, famous for the national AAU track events, is a vigorous city with many stunning and colorful, streamlined public buildings. The motels are legion—and they are air-conditioned and luxurious, their swimming pools and flowers bright in the sun. In the hot summer little or no rain falls. Deep wells pour life-giving water onto the surrounding land; this is the Cinderella touch that keeps this land a green and productive oasis.

Pleasant Drive

The drive northward is a joy over U. S. 99, with its four lanes divided by exotic flowers and eucalyptus trees. Acres of well-tended cotton and thriving vineyards stretch from either side of the road, and there is the silhouette of oil derricks to the west. As you penetrate further into the valley, trees hang heavy with peaches, plums and apricots. It's with genuine excitement that you make a right turn onto California 198 just north of Tulare, for now you are aiming directly for the elusive grandeur of the snow-capped Sierras to the east. The area surrounding Visalia is rich in vineyards and groves of oranges and olives.

Soon you are among brown and lumpy foothills. A little further along, the Kaweah River splashes down over smooth gray granite boulders, forming inviting swimming holes. Slick Rock is dotted with sun bathers, the river with

There is a highway hub of superlatives in a California Magic Circle that revolves around Sequoia National Park and its mighty trees, the largest and most majestic of living things. The rich San Joaquin Valley and its ultramodern cities are surrounded by orchards of every kind, cotton fields, oil wells. Included in the tour are the mountain grandeur of Kings Canyon and Yosemite National Parks, Mt. Whitney and Lake Isabella, a new water playground.

bobbing heads, and families line the tree-shaded picnic tables.

Road Weaves Upward

The road weaves upward, and it's everybody out for a stretch at Hospital Rock. Here Indians once dwelled, and their writings in delicate weathered colors are still discernible. Mountain peaks rise sharply in all directions with the focus on the giant gray monolith, Moro Rock, severe and imposing.

The keynote of Sequoia National Park is serenity. You sense it at the rustic Giant Forest Lodge and at the attractive government camping grounds where each morning is a new thrill when you first glimpse the stately titans towering above you. The full impact comes when you stand at the base of the General Sherman, largest tree in the world. It measures 101 feet around the base, is 272 feet tall and contains enough lumber to build a small town. Following the two-mile circle trail, you see evidence at Chief Sequoia that even fire, caused by lightning centuries ago, could not conquer these serene giants. The Congress Group, the closely huddled Founders Grove, General Lee, the Room and Telescope trees all add to your awe.

Outdoor Cathedral

Shafts of light penetrate down into the aisles between these monarchs, and you are walking in a cathedral that no man could duplicate. Their unblemished red trunks reach straight up to a pompon crown of branches that are like emerald frescoes on the ceiling of vivid blue sky.

There are other attractions of note in Sequoia. You will want to make the 20-minute climb up the stone steps to the very summit of Moro Rock which, over the centuries, has been slowly peeling away like a tough onion. There is a spectacular view upward to a dozen saw-toothed peaks, and a mile downward the Kaweah River Canyon lies like a tangled ribbon. In the meadows deer graze among the tiger lilies, for it's spring in July at this elevation.

These are excursions to Crystal Cave, the Bear's Bathtub and to Beetle Rock for a Sierra sunset. A high point is evening around the campfire, where you will join in the singing of old favorites and hear illustrated talks by ranger-naturalists.

The Generals Highway, a 30-mile, black-topped road of forest beauty, joins Sequoia to Kings Canyon National Park. Grant Grove is your base of operations; near here you will pay your respects to the noble and mighty 267-foot General Grant tree, which was designated as the Nation's Christmas Tree by the U. S. Government in 1926.

There is a new thrill ahead as you continue into the park (California 190) and pass Ten-Mile Creek, for the panorama of Kings River Canyon. At the union of the middle and south forks, the downward path is precipitous, the water white and frothy. The walls of the gorge are so narrow that they almost seem to touch, although the highway along the open cliff is wide and for high gear driving.

Quiet Beauty World

This is a world apart, quiet and with but few breezes and few people. Here is the serenity of Sequoia with solitude added; this is the essence of Kings Canyon splendor. Never have I seen such a depth of blue in both lakes and sky. The lush green meadows of the high country are equally vivid.

The Magic Circle from Kings Canyon continues (California 180) down for 56 pleasant miles through mountains and foothills to Fresno, which Californians call the "world capital of agri-business." The county is a leader in production of grapes, wine, figs, barley, nuts, fruit. The city enjoys a lively tourist trade; not only is it a hub of the national parks, but also has such attractions as Christmas Tree Lane, the Underground Gardens, a famed winery with daily tours open to the public, the Civic Center with its pace-setting modernistic City Hall of Roman red brick, Roeding Park Zoo and children's playground, Kearney Park with its palm-shaded drives and the manor house of the eccentric bachelor and promoter, Martin Kearney, who died in 1906. Man-made Millerton Lake and Pine Flat Reservoir offer boating, fishing and water skiing.

From Fresno you turn north (California 41) through a vast farming empire to enter Yosemite National Park at its southernmost point. Stay as long as you can explore and photograph its scenic gems, such as Yosemite and Bridal Veil Falls, two of the nation's best-known water spectacles. The evening ritual of the Firefall is memorable, as huge flaming logs are tumbled from Glacier Point to the rocks 1,000 feet below. The summer road which dissects Yosemite from west to east lies along the Tuolumne Meadows, flanked by gray granite glacier rocks. Once you leave the park, a nine-mile, cliff-hugging ride (California 120) brings you dramatically down to Mono Lake.

Weird Mono Lake

This lake, where Sequoia's Magic Circle curves south (U. S. 395), is like a mirage, a friendly apparition sitting in a gray, tan and blue-green bowl of desert hills that stretch east into Nevada. Its 87 square miles of water are so full of soluble alkaline materials that no living things survive in it except a small salt water shrimp and the larvae of a tiny black fly. Two islands, one chalk white, rise out of the colorless water that looks as if a comb had been run through it. A few miles south you pass huge buttes that resemble empty ice cream cones baked of mud.

The town of Lane Pine lies directly beneath Mt. Whitney, high point in the 48 "connected" states. If your itinerary permits, stay overnight and see the peak of sunrise when the sun's first rays daub the snow-mantled peak a bright pink.

Olancho, a few miles south, is a welcome sight with its giant cottonwoods, for the land begins to take on a stark desert look. Follow U. S. 395 for 11 miles after it bears away from U. S. 6, the turn sharply west (California 178). This new stretch of black-top plunges you through a canyon forested with Joshua trees.

Isabella Dam, built for flood control and irrigation, has turned barren country into a mountain playground. Lake Isabella is like a placid inland sea with occasional tiny islands where once there were valley ranches. Trees stick out the water as if they were swimming. There is a weird effect of an old desert road leading down the cliff and into the water; it may be the one that led to Whiskey flat, a thriving mining town of 1860, which now lies at the bottom of the lake. With a 38-mile shore line, the lake has quickly made this farming area a marine-minded paradise. More than 10,000 watercraft are registered at the lake. Cars with boat-laden trailers weave in and out in an unending procession up the Kern River Canyon road from Bakersfield.

KILLED BY TRACTOR

MT. POCONO, Pa. (AP)—Gilbert Folkers stepped back to look at a tire he was fixing along Route 611 Tuesday night and was killed by a tractor-trailer.

Folkers, 45, of Mount Pocono, was dead at the scene. His mother, Mrs. Hattie Folkers, 77, was not injured as the tractor-trailer sideswiped the car after hitting her son.

BEST SELLING AUTHOR ONCE QUIT MEDICINE

By ANDY ANDERSON

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—A man who quit the medical profession to become a writer so he would have more leisure soon found he was involved in two to four books at once.

A result of this bear-by-the-tail situation is that Dr. Frank Slaughter, after 34 books in 18 years, is among the best selling authors in the country and perhaps the world.

Housewives, he says, can make or break an author because "they are the reading public."

Three Million Yearly

His paperback reprints sell two million a year and all other editions including book clubs bring his total sales to over three million yearly. Only Erskine Caldwell and mystery writer Erle Stanley Gardner outsell him, Slaughter claims.

He used to write fiction each morning, nonfiction each afternoon. Now to give his output variety and to keep his interest up he writes a Biblical story, a modern medical story and a serious historical novel. But he is hunting for a fourth field.

His newest book, "Lorena," a Civil War novel, was published by Doubleday Aug. 6 and he has just completed "Pilgrims in Paradise," about a group of pilgrims in the Bahamas in the 1600's.

Ancient Setting

The project uppermost in his mind is a story with a 2,000 B.C. setting.

Slaughter works 50 hours or more each week. He writes in longhand on a yellow tablet, dictates it each afternoon, gives it to a typist, then starts revisions.

"There are not two consecutive sentences in the first draft which aren't revised," he says.

Born in Washington

Slaughter's hands move constantly as he talks. Only now and then can one tell by his speech that he was brought up in North Carolina. He was born in 1908 in Washington, D. C.

C-D Director Gives Warning Of Danger

PITTSBURGH (AP) — "The enemy could penetrate our defense and inflict extensive damage on the United States," warns John N. Bailey, a civil defense director from Region II.

Bailey told the Society of American Military Engineers Tuesday that "85 per cent of our industry and all but seven of our 50 largest cities are within range of submarine-launched guided missiles."

A nuclear assault against the 50 largest cities today, said Bailey, would bring over half the population of the country and three-quarters of our industry under direct attack.

NEW YORK (AP) — Producer George Eckstein personally will take over a role in "Billy Barnes Revue" Wednesday so the regular performer, Bert Convy, can go to Tulsa, Okla., to get married Saturday. Convy will return to Broadway after a weekend honeymoon with his bride, Anne Anderson.

middle, "because when I take up work again I'm caught in the sweep of movement. It's very effective for me."

Over 25,000,000 of his books have been published in English and 16 foreign languages. He says his sales are increasing although he has reduced the emphasis on sex in recent years.

The story he likes best about himself concerns a drug store in West Chester, Pa. It has books arranged under three heads: "Fiction," "Non-Fiction," and "Frank G. Slaughter."

HANDY ITEMS OFFERED FOR MANY NEEDS

By ED MORSE
AP Business News Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — An electronic device which automatically dims your headlights when an approaching car comes within 1,200 feet is among new products this week.

Called the "Hi-Way-I," the device is made by Electronics Corp. of America, Cambridge, Mass. The firm notes that many states require that headlights be dimmed when nearing another vehicle. The device also dims the lights when you come from behind to within 100 to 200 feet of the car ahead.

World Briefs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev apparently has run into trouble in his campaign to get Communist China to join in reducing East-West tensions.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, summing up his impression of Khrushchev's visit to Peiping following his Camp David talks, told newsmen: "I would say that I can see no visible easing of tensions as between Chinese Communists and ourselves."

Herter also suggested the possibility of a split in the foreign policy lines of the Soviet and Red Chinese governments.

GENEVA (AP) — Planned parenthood got a boost Tuesday as a committee of the World Council of Churches strongly endorsed all methods of birth control to stem the worldwide population explosion.

The recommendation by the 22-member committee of churchmen, doctors and sociologists was in direct contradiction to the teaching of the Roman Catholic Church.

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — The U.N. fact-finding mission flew Wednesday to the royal capital of Luang Prabang to wind up its inquiry into Laotian charges that Communist North Viet Nam is aiding the Pathet Lao rebels.

Informed sources said the U. N. team is expected to leave Laos around Oct. 15 and fly via Tokyo to New York, where it will complete its report to the Security Council.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Conductor Leonard Bernstein and the New York Philharmonic Orchestra played Soviet composer Dmitri Shostakovich's Fifth Symphony here Tuesday night despite objection from the U. S. Embassy. They drew frenzied applause from an audience of normally reserved Swedes.

Swedish newspapers said the embassy had tried to remove the Soviet composer's work from the touring orchestra's program on the ground it was unfavorably received when the Philadelphia Symphony played it here two years ago.

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev flew to Irkutsk in central Siberia Wednesday en route home from his visit to Peiping.

The Soviet news agency Tass said the Premier made an important speech Tuesday to a mass meeting of workers in the Siberian port city of Vladivostok. Tass said the speech will be made public in a few days.

59 CARRIERS OF TB AT LARGE

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Fifty-nine known carriers of tuberculosis are at large, probably roaming the city's streets.

The 59 are among 171 known cases detected in a series of spot X-rays taken in Philadelphia's skid row area.

Dr. Samuel G. Stein, chief of the Health Department's Tuberculosis Section, said Tuesday the 59 are dangerous carriers of the lung disease.

A mobile X-ray unit roamed through the skid row area, centered around 8th and Vine Streets, last month. Its crew persuaded men to come in off the streets for X-rays.

Because of the transient nature of residents in the area, the pictures were developed each night and the next day health department workers rushed into the area to find infected men.

The 112 rounded up were taken to a district health clinic for treatment or for referral to a sanitarium in the more serious cases.

Theoretically, slightly over 70 degrees is the best water temperature for catching large-mouth bass.

Oil Well Blows And Kills 2 Men

LOVELL, Wyo. (AP) — An oil well in a Wyoming field blew out Tuesday, claiming the lives of two men.

A Mobil Producing Co. spokesman said the well was being re-worked and pump rods being pulled from the well casing when it blew, filling the area with oil and poisonous hydrogen-sulfide gas.

Herb Pittman, 39, and Ken Pomroy, about 30, both of Powell, were overcome by fumes and fell face first into a pool of oil. Two workmen who attempted to save them were overcome but were rescued by other workmen.

SOUTH CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Seventeen-year-old Betty Sue Eplin gave birth to a daughter, Brenda Sue, last Dec. 28.

Now, 10 months later, Mrs. Eplin is the mother of four children. The wife of a golf course caddy gave birth to triplets, six weeks premature, Monday.

DECEPTION ON BRAND NAMES IS ALLEGED

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Trade Commission charged Tuesday that the Lee Rubber & Tire Corp., Conshohocken, Pa., uses a deceptive brand name for its "advance super deluxe" tires.

The FTC said Lee's advertising implies that the "advance super deluxe" tire is a first line tire. The complaint said that actually it is a second line tire.

The "advance super deluxe," the FTC said, formerly was a first line tire. But, the FTC said, Lee advertising does not reveal that it has been lowered in quality.

The Associated Press incorrectly reported in a prior dispatch that the company's "ultra deluxe" tire also had been described by the FTC as a second line tire. Actually the "ultra deluxe" is a premium grade tire.

The Lee Company has 30 days in which to answer the complaint.

The National League pennant winner has won 100 or more games only eight times in the last 45 years.

Juvenile Curfew Seen A Major Delinquency Curb

(Editors Note: Pennsylvania, along with other states, especially the heavily populated ones, has a growing problem of juvenile delinquency. Some of the best minds of the times are being brought to bear upon the problem. Parents, teachers, welfare workers, public officials join with the more enlightened lawmen in trying to get at the roots of the evil. Where do we stand now? Are control measures really effective? In particular, is the much talked about curfew for teen-agers successful? Here is a three-part special series, based on a statewide survey. The first article follows—The AP.)

By RUSSELL LANDSTROM

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The curfew is a powerful weapon for keeping juveniles out of the grasp of the old pros in crime. That sums up one major opinion about the value of a curfew in keeping tab on teen-agers in Pennsylvania.

Another view, also held firmly by many, is that a curfew is undesirable. These critics say it is a form of martial law, penalizing all to curb a few.

Another View

And here is a third way of looking at it:

No law—curfew especially—will work unless the public and parents go along with it. In this third main area of opinion it is argued that parents are all too often indifferent, if not actually uncooperative and resentful.

One public official put it this way: The blame for juvenile wrongdoing rests with the architects who designed the modern home and insisted on leaving out the woodshed.

Opinion number one is most strongly expressed officially in Philadelphia, where the state has its most serious juvenile problems.

The second slant, although not limited to any one city or town, was typified by the comments of Charles R. Griffith, police chief of Johnstown, an industrial city of 70,000 or more, in the west.

Burgess Spokesman

A spokesman for those who have drawn the third set of conclusions might well be Raymond W. Williams, burgess of the borough of Phoenixville, in Chester County. Phoenixville has a population of about 15,000.

The curfew is accepted there—but with reservations.

Pittsburgh, Erie and Scranton, the state's largest cities after Philadelphia, have no curfew at all. Neither does Harrisburg, the capital.

Some places have had a curfew law for a long while, but have made little attempt to enforce it. In this group are Wilkes-Barre, with a population of about 80,000, in the heart of the hard coal country; Chester, industrial center of some 70,000; and Ellwood City, a northeastern Pennsylvania community less than a third that size.

Seen Success

In most cities and towns where the law is truly enforced, this survey found, public officials and the people themselves believe that a curfew does hold down juvenile crime.

In places where enforcement has lapsed, or where a curfew has not been tried, officials doubt that the law is really effective. The youngsters simply go somewhere else to get away from the restriction.

Pennsylvania curfews apply to those up to 16 to 18 years, unless they are in the company of elders, have special permits to work late, or for other good reasons are allowed to be out after the deadline.

The hour varies from 9 to 10:30 p.m. except on Friday and Saturday when the time is extended, here and there up to midnight.

No Resentment

Generally, enforcement is reported to entail no major problems. Leaving out young hoodlums, the teen-agers themselves apparently show no great resentment.

Two samples of reaction, from towns of the 15,000 to 18,000 population class:

In Mount Carmel, which has had a curfew for 50 years, young people accept it as part of their lives.

In Coatesville, where a revised and revised ordinance has been in force for only three years, the opinion of about 80 per cent of the young people is that the curfew is fair.

Mrs. Luther Wetzel Fairfield 125-R-21

ORRTANNA—Mrs. C. G. Crist entertained at dinner Monday evening at Sanders' Restaurant near Hunterstown. Twenty-three members of the Women's Missionary Society of the Mt. Carmel EUB Church and the pastor, Rev. Alfred K. Gotwalt, were present for a roast chicken dinner.

Following dinner the monthly meeting of the study class was held using a new book entitled "Your Family and Christian Stewardship." Leader of the group was Mrs. Clyde Baker, who opened the meeting with a prayer.

Parts of the lesson were read by the following: Mrs. Paul Wetzel, Mrs. Robert Shindler, Mrs. Claire Rebert, Miss Linda Carbaugh, Mrs. Dale Wetzel, Mrs. William Weigle, Mrs. J. E. Spence and Mrs. Robert Chapman. A discussion period followed the reading. Among those who took part were: Mrs. Ira Naugle, Mrs. John Gallagher and Rev. Gotwalt.

Poems were read by Mrs. John Gallagher and Mrs. Charles Shindler. Later Mrs. Ira Naugle sang "Every Moment of the Day." The meeting was closed with singing and prayers offered by Mrs. Clyde Metz and Rev. Gotwalt.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Single were visited over the weekend by their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Thurmont.

Mr. and Mrs. Blair Biesecker, New York, visited Sunday with Mr. Biesecker's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Biesecker, and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Musselman.

NEW YORK (AP)—The city today began taking applications for 100 "metermaids." The maids, who can be anywhere from 21 to 45 years old, are wanted to tend parking meters and enforce the regulations on the meters, issuing summonses for violations. The starting salary is $3,150 a year.

SLEEPY COAST TOWN OF KONA COMES TO LIFE

By CARL ZIMMERMAN
KAILUA-KONA, Hawaii (AP) —
The sleepy Kona coast, cradle of Hawaiian history, is coming to life again with a new wave of visitors.

And they are getting a friendlier welcome than the first arrivals 180 years ago.

English explorer Capt. James Cook was slain in a battle with the Polynesians in 1779, a year after he discovered the islands.

Resort Center
Now, the little village of Kailua is becoming a growing resort center. Four hotels are operating and more are planned.

Kailua, on the island of Hawaii itself, is a 45-minute plane ride from Honolulu.
This was the first capital of the islands, and the first church was built here. A short distance down the coast is the City of Refuge, a burial place for Hawaiian royalty and a sanctuary to which Hawaiians in other times who committed crimes could flee and be immune from punishment.

Other attractions for tourists include some of the world's best deep sea marlin fishing and skin diving.

The past isn't dead and buried here.
Mokuaukaia church, built in 1923, is still an active landmark.
It sounds its chimes every evening.

Palace Museum
Hulihee Palace was the residence of the Hawaiian royal family, but now is a museum.
Nearby is the historic residence of Kamehameha I, first king of the Hawaiian Islands.

The capital remained in Kailua until 1820, when it was moved to Honolulu.

Plan Hotel
The home of the king, who lived in a grass shack, as did his ancestors, has vanished with hardly a trace. All that is left is a rubble of lava rock from a shrine, ringed by piles of lumber and a cattle pen.

Now, a hotel is planned for the area and the new state government is hoping to restore the historical site itself.
Kailua is also a good place to see the hula as the Hawaiians originally danced it.

For an unvarnished taste of old Hawaii, the best recipe is a trip to the City of Refuge.

Along a solitary shore, Hawaiians had built massive lava rock walls and platforms in a groove of coconut palms.

BOONVILLE, N. Y. (AP)—One of this village's two policemen pleaded guilty Tuesday to stealing nickels from parking meters.
The policeman, Louis E. Grieco,
43, received a six-month suspended sentence.

SUSPECT TWO NEW CASES OF ENCEPHALITIS

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — The New Jersey Health Department today kept a close watch on the condition of two men admitted to Camden hospitals with symptoms of a deadly sleeping sickness.

Just as the department was beginning to hope an outburst of eastern equine encephalitis in South Jersey had ended, Hammon farm hand Jose Cruz and Wildwood laborer Esan Johnson showed signs of getting the disease.

It is marked by high fever, convulsions and coma. Doctors said Johnson did not have polio or meningitis which have similar symptoms.

Until Wednesday there had been no new suspected cases of the disease for 10 days.

A Health Department spokesman said it has not yet added the two men to its list of 29 suspected cases, including 19 deaths.

He said, "we have heard about them, we are interested in them, and we are following them up."

Health Commissioner Dr. Roscoe P. Kandle said the state virus laboratory has confirmed eight deaths and four other cases as eastern equine encephalitis, a disease transmitted from birds to horses and humans by the rare Culiseta melanura mosquito.

Gov. Robert B. Meyner told a news conference Wednesday he thought there might have been faster progress in identifying and pinpointing the source of the disease if the Legislature had granted his request to set up the virus laboratory in 1957, instead of waiting until last year.

He said he will consider putting the State Mosquito Control Commission in the Health Department, but any recommendation will have to await his annual message to the Legislature next year.

BILLIE WARNS KHRUSHCHEV

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham said Wednesday night, "Mr. Khrushchev, despite all you say about believing in God, someday you and all your kind will call upon Him."

He referred to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, who toured this country recently. He added to the 8,100 persons gathered for the second night of his 27-night crusade here: "And all those here tonight who have never prayed will know an hour when you will call upon His name."

"But the tragedy is that someday it will be too late to pray. The Bible tells about a man who waited until he got to hell to pray, and then it was too late. Our prayers are to be prayed this side of the grave."

Prayer "is as natural as breathing," Graham said.

Graham's appeal at the end of his sermon for listeners to come forward to bow before God and "ask him to come into your hearts" was answered by 155 persons.

To Resume Work On Budget Today

HARRISBURG (AP) — The special House-Senate committee striving to resolve differences over Gov. Lawrence's budget took a break today in its closed-door discussions.

After an 8½-hour session Wednesday, Chairman J. Dean Polen (D-Washington) of the House Appropriations Committee told newsmen, "we are still far apart in some areas." He conceded, however, that some progress had been made in three days of talks.

The six-man committee plans to resume work Friday.

Polen said the conferees hope by next Tuesday "to have the entire situation to the point where we can report an agreement to our respective caucuses for their decision." The Legislature returns Tuesday after a week's recess.

BACK TO PRISON

HOLLIDAYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — A Blair County youth charged with prison breach and assault and battery has been sentenced to 2½-5 years in prison.

The sentence was pronounced Wednesday against Robert L. Frantz, 20, of Tyrone, R. D. He had jumped from a 15-foot high wall at the county jail last April in an attempted escape.

WOULD SPEND MORE

ERIE, Pa. (AP) — Sen. Joseph Clark (D-Pa.) urges the federal government to jack up its budget as a means of speeding up development projects.

"You can't run a good first rate government and provide all the necessary security and services on a 77-billion-dollar budget," Clark told a Citizens Action Committee here Wednesday.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell will address the 35th annual convention of the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers Assn. here Oct. 17—the last day of the group's three-day meeting. Other speakers will include Gov. Lawrence and State Highways Secretary Park Martin.

CUT IN PIDA FUNDS MAY BE GIVEN BACK

By RICHARD L. GRAVES

HARRISBURG (AP)—Lawmakers seeking compromise on Gov. Lawrence's proposed state budget are under pressure to restore cuts in appropriations for the Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority.

The support for restoration of the appropriation to the full 10 million dollars requested by the governor is coming from community and industrial leaders in many areas, especially the state's hard-pressed coal regions.

There were signs from the House-Senate Conference Committee that the 1½ million dollars cut from the requests by the Republican-controlled Senate would be re-added to the General Appropriation Bill.

Strong Argument

One of the strongest arguments in favor of restoration of the governor's requests has been the sound financial condition of the fund.

PIDA officials say the additional 10 million dollars would allow it to grow at the rate of $1,200,000 a biennium through interest and capital return. Senate GOP officials in slashing the requests—said the full amount would have allowed growth of the fund at a million and a half dollar rate each two years.

The Authority, established in 1956 with a five million dollar appropriation, may make second mortgage loans of up to 30 per cent of the total real estate costs of an industrial project. The loa carries an interest rate of 2 per cent and the maximum term is 25 years. Community subscription funds must make up at least 20 per cent of the cost with a bank or other outside source providing the additional funds on a first mortgage basis.

Made 71 Loans

Since 1956 the PIDA has received appropriations totaling $10,200,000. It has made 71 loans so far. Only one company for which funds were provided has failed.

Through August the PIDA fund had collected more than $219,000 in interest on loans and an additional $112,026 in interest on funds committed but not yet used. An additional $239,000 was repaid on principal.

All of this money is made available for the financing of new projects.

Actually, the state loans are made to community nonprofit corporations in labor surplus areas. The projects built are made available to private industry on a lease or lease-purchase arrangement.

Jobs For 20,000

So far, projects have been approved in 34 counties. The biggest single project is a plant used by the Eberhard Faber Pencil Co., in Wilkes-Barre.

Projected plants include a three million dollar project in Falls Twp., Bucks County, which will employ 1,400 persons. The PIDA would put up $900,000 of the cost. It is contingent on approval of appropriations.

Of the funds allocated so far to the authority, some $7,200,000 have been committed. Another five million dollars worth of PIDA loans are earmarked for various projects. When they are completed, together with projects already built, they will provide employment for nearly 20,000 persons.

CLEVELAND (AP)—Gov. David L. Lawrence of Pennsylvania said today there is a "vital and basic" need for lawyers to become active in the rapidly expanding field of urban redevelopment.

In remarks prepared for delivery to the Cleveland Bar Assn., Lawrence said that as the nation's cities tackle redevelopment problems on a grander scale, sound legal advice will be needed.

U.N. COMMITTEE SETS UP ITS PLANS TODAY

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS N.Y. (AP)

The U.N.'s main Political Committee sets up its order of business today with the Soviets holding the limelight on the key questions of disarmament and outer space.

The 82-nation committee was expected to run into a procedural wrangle over which of five disarmament items will get priority.

The Soviets were reported determined to lead the debate with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's proposal for total disarmament. This would collide head on with an Asian-African demand for priority on Morocco's appeal for France to cancel plans for testing an atomic bomb in the Sahara.

Irish Appeal Too

The Soviets tried to ensure special treatment for the Khrushchev plan more than a week ago by urging the steering committee to recommend that it be taken up separately from other arms questions. The steering group decided to let the Political Committee decide.

The committee also has on its docket an Irish appeal to restrict the "nuclear club" to Britain, the United States and the Soviet Union; an Indian call for a permanent ban on all nuclear weapon tests; and Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld's report on the current international efforts at disarmament.

Want homemade tomato soup to be curdle-free? Then warm the tomatoes and cream sauce separately; stir the tomatoes into the milk (NOT the other way around) and reheat but do not boil.

"MY DOCTOR..."

This possessive phrase is familiar to all. It represents the profound confidence American people have in physicians. But do you really have a family physician?

Even though you may have been fortunate, not requiring medical care, it is stitch-in-time wisdom to establish a "family doctor" relationship.

Simply contact the physician of your choice, requesting that you would like him to serve your family should the need arise.

And if such a need arises, our prescription department is prepared to serve you and your family.

Quiz Show Contestant Says He Double-crossed Producer

By JOHN H. AVEREILL

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressional committee neared the end Wednesday of its sometimes hilarious revival of the television quiz show "Twenty-One." So far it has been a story of fix, fraud and double cross.

Called as the windup witness on "Twenty-One" was Richard Jackman, a former contestant who is said to have told a New York grand jury the show was crooked. Jackman is an organizer for the International Ladies Garment Workers Union.

The House subcommittee on Legislative Oversight then planned to turn its spotlight on another TV quiz—"Dotto," the first of the shows to collapse under fraud charges. This started a chain of events that brought to an end the era of huge money prizes and strained, sweating faces peering out of isolation booths.

Tells Of Double Cross

The story of the double cross was unfolded by James Snodgrass, 37, a New York artist. He testified that he brought "Twenty-One's" producers to the verge of panic by giving the correct answer to a question he said they told him to miss.

When the show ended, Snodgrass said, producer Albert Freedman "came to my dressing room and said I had ruined him." Snodgrass wound up with a comparatively meagre $4,000.

Echoing testimony by Herbert Kemple, another former contestant, Snodgrass said he, too, had been supplied in advance with questions and answers and even coached on dress, mannerisms and gestures.

Told To Miss Questions

The double cross came, Snodgrass said, when Freedman instructed him to miss a question and thus lose a month-long running contest with Hank Bloomgarden, also of New York.

"What made you balk?" asked Robert W. Lishman, subcommittee counsel.

Snodgrass replied: "Maybe it was a hope deep inside that everything would work out fair and square. Also, I knew the answer. I had been told the answers."

Snodgrass testified that Freedman "told me there would be a series of ties between me and Mr. Bloomgarden to build popularity of the show. I also was told Mr. Bloomgarden knew of this and it was agreeable to him."

Subcommittee chairman Owen Harris (D-Ark) said the purpose of the four-day inquiry is to determine whether there has been any violation of federal law and whether new laws are needed.

NIXON WARNS SOVIET UNION

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon has warned the Soviet Union that use of subversion against free nations would endanger the concept of peaceful competition advanced by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev during his U.S. visit.

Nixon spoke at the opening of a three-day meeting of the Central Treaty Organization—the former Baghdad Pact group which forms a Middle Eastern defense alliance along the Soviet borders.

Full pomp and circumstance attended the event in which Nixon welcomed the leaders from Turkey, Iran, Pakistan and Britain at the CENTO gathering.

The United States, although it is not a formal member of the group, heavily supports its defense and economic activities.

Referring to peaceful overtures made by Khrushchev on his tour of the United States, Nixon warned against relaxing free world defense efforts at this time. He said that while some may see a change in the world situation, and one can be hopeful about resuming negotiations on Berlin, there should be no illusion that the basic situation has changed.

BRIDGES MAY BE USED IN GOP SQUEEZE PLAY

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans wondered today whether a political squeeze play is developing in New Hampshire that could affect the 1960 GOP presidential nomination contest.

Gov. Wesley Powell said Tuesday he is prepared to support Sen. Styles Bridges (R-NH) as a favorite son candidate. That came as chilling news for supporters who have been trying to get New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller into the state's presidential primary next March.

There is speculation that if the senator were to let his name go into the primary, there would not be much room left for either Rockefeller or Vice President Richard M. Nixon to enter the contest.

Bridges Supports Nixon

Since Bridges is tabbed as an out-and-out Nixon supporter, a favorite son delegation could be expected to throw its support to the vice president at the July party convention.

On the other hand, Nixon's friends were obviously disappointed by Powell's fresh declaration at a news conference that he is maintaining neutrality between Nixon and Rockefeller.

Asked to evaluate their qualifications for the presidential nomination the governor said he re-

Shamokin Banker Dies On Tuesday

DANVILLE, Pa. (AP) — H. Wilson Lark, Shamokin banker and coal operator, died Tuesday at Danville's Geisinger Memorial Hospital. He was 78.

Lark was admitted to the hospital four weeks ago after suffering a heart attack. He was the father of Henry W. Lark, Northumberland County Republican chairman and prominent in state GOP circles.

He was president of the National Bank of Shamokin and owned and operated Steam Coals Inc., Shamokin, and the Wilson Coal Co. and Penag Coal Co., both in Schuylkill County.

DETROIT (AP) — The vast General Motors Corp. empire is feeling the steel shortage pinch with layoffs reaching 12,000 in parts and equipment plants across the nation.

The latest and largest layoff was announced Tuesday when 4,000 hourly workers at the Terner Division in Flint, Mich., were informed the steel strike had caught up with their jobs.

gards them so far as equal.

Because Powell is a former protege of and administrative assistant to Bridges, Nixon's backers had hoped the governor would be on their side.

But Powell may face a stiff fight for renomination and reelection next year. Some New Hampshire politicians thought his comment about Bridges might be a means of side stepping a direct presidential stand now to await further developments.

SONGWRITER, LYRICIST IS RECOGNIZED

By GEORGE ESPER

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "A little talent, a lot of timing and an awful lot of luck."

That's songwriter Bob Merrill's formula for success.

Merrill, 39, wrote the lyrics and music for "Take Me Along," the new musical at the Shubert Theater in its pre-Broadway run.

It stars Jackie Gleason and appears headed for the success "My Fair Lady," and "The Music Man" enjoyed.

Merrill, who describes himself as a "flexible, easy-going, low-blood pressure personality," worked nearly two years on "Take Me Along," his second venture into Broadway.

He said that producer David Merrick wanted him for the show because he was successful in his first venture, "New Girl In Town."

Merrill has had some 20 jukebox hits including "Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania," "Doggie In The Window," "Sparrow In The Tree Top," and "Honeycomb."

He says that even with such a noted background it took him five years to crack Broadway because "no Broadway producer wanted to hire 'Doggie'."

Began As Director

Merrill was born in Atlantic City, N. J., and moved to Philadelphia when he was two years old. He started out as a Hollywood movie director.

How does Merrill conceive a tune and its lyrics?

"You call on everything around you. There's no inference, no real inspiration. You write thousands of songs and one might be a hit such as 'Doggie In The Window.'"

Asked to elaborate about timing as a factor in success, Merrill explained:

Be There

"Be at the right place at the right time. Along life's way you meet people whom you believe in and then you wait until they're doing something. When they are—JUST GET THERE."
